Dallas school news

HOMECOMING 1986 was a smashing success! Festivities began on Saturday, Oct. 25, with the Dallas/Naticoke football game and the crowning of our Homecoming Queen. Congrats to the new queen Leigh Pawling and her escort Steve Cominsky. Let's not forget a hearty round of applause to first runner-up Heather Nattress, who was escorted by the handsomely attired Enrico Nardone.

Later that evening, we regrouped at the high school for the unforgettable dance, with its theme "Let the Good Times Roll." And roll they did. Class mouth and funnyman, Chris Kelly took a break from checking out everyone else's dates to lead a merry crowd of football players in a rousing chorus of Bon Jovi's "You Give Love a Bad name." (Does David Lee Roth face some competition here?)

Zootz, providers of stuff to dance to, picked upon the broad hint and served up an excellent version of that very tasteful tune. For the hipsters among us, Zootz supplied a balance of equally great cover versions, including a favorite by the Talking Heads. A blast was had by all and, like, only seven months until the prom, man...

DEADLINES, DEADLINES, DEADLINES! Last Sunday night, I was seen frantically calling up anyone whose phone number I possessed in an attempt to allude yet another of those famous deadlines. And here are the results:

Phone interview number one was conducted with MELANIE (don't call me Mel!) COSCIA. She lives with her mom and dad, Judi and Robert, and various siblings in Trucksville. At school, she is involved in chorus, yearbook and drama club, in which she currently has a part in her third production.

In the future, she hopes to attend Kutztown University where she will major in International Studies and hopefully, study abroad. In the past, she has won the Scholastic Achievement Award for Foreign Languages (German). She plans to go after that award again this year. So watch out, polyglots!

My next call was to CAROLINE SAVAKINUS. She is the daughter of Carol and Ludwig Savakinus of Shavertown. At Dallas, she spend much of her time singing with various choral groups, i.e. chorus, choristers, Chansonaires and Madrigals, and is also a member of the yearbook staff.

Her future plans include attending college, majoring in Elementary Education or Criminal Justice. She hopes to work with 5-to-10 year olds who have committed serious crimes.

BEST WISHES go out to senior Debbie Roginski for a speedy recovery after she sustained minor injuries in a car accident Wednesday night. Presently, she is recuperating at home. Get well soon, Deb!

DIANE JACHIMOWICZ - The Lake-Lehman girls' basketball team has been doing rather well the past few years and expect to do very well this year. One reason for this is Diane. Diane loves playing basketball and is a major force on the team at forward. Along with b-ball, Diane leads an exciting life a she has many other activities. These activities include cliff diving, hang gliding, windsurfing, snorkeling, stunting and traveling. She is also a member of S.A.D.D.

A major goal in Diane's life is to become Inspector Gadget's next assistant. If Diane can't achieve this goal she plans to attend Millersville University to major in psychology. Diane resides in Shavertown and is the daughter of Patricia D. Jachimowicz.

VANESSA RODZINAK - One adjective to describe Vanessa is busy. This young student is always involved and always helping out. Vanessa is a very active member of S.A.D.D. When she is not involved in school she enjoys the outdoors. Among her activities, Vanessa enjoys swimming, skiing, listening to music and playing the piano. Vanessa also enjoys shopping, going to the movies or just cruising around.

Vanessa plans to further her education in college but is undecided about the location or her major.

LAST WEDNESDAY, the Lake-Lehman Senior Class held its annual Activity Class Night in the school's gym. Open only to the senior class, the night was filled with fun and games including pass the apple, peanut push, egg toss, volleyball and floor hockey. The music blasting through the gym while the students participated in these activities.

In the lobby students were able to watch last year's Washington trip while Mr. Roberts, Mr. Z, Mr. Gorgone, and Mr. Maciak participated in a game of hand ball ping-pong. As the evening ended nobody wanted to leave, but we had to go because we all had school the next day.
