The state's new Sunshine Law, Act 84 of 1986, the new Open Meeting Law for public agencies, will take effect on Jan 5, 1987. Basically, what the new law states is that most school board sub-committee meetings must now be open to the public. Last week, Dallas Post staff writer John Hoinski visited the Dallas Shopping Center and asked the question: How do you feel about these meetings being open to the general public?

ANTHONY DELUCA, 39, Hazleton. "This is America. I think all meetings concerning the public should be open. The voters have a right to know what is going on."
 ED STEINHAUER, 74, Harveys Lake. "They should be open. There should be no secrets between committees and the people of the community."
 CORA CAMPBELL, 61, Sweet Valley. "Positively, they should be open to the public. Let everybody know what is going on."
 JOHN MCGEEHAN, 22, Bloomsburg. "Yes, I'm in favor of that. All school board officials are elected by the public. I think the meetings should be open."
 HAROLD PHILLIPS, 73, Beaumont. "Any meeting that have to do with the public should be open. The people have a right to be there."

Parents have a right to know what school board officials do."

Social Security

People planning to retire next year or in the near future should not wait until the last minute to get answers to the questions they may have about Social Security. This may lead to a delay in benefits or Medicare coverage, or even the loss of benefits in some cases.

The people at any Social Security office can answer a person's questions about retirement benefits.

Social Security generally suggests that people apply two to three months before the month they wish their Social Security checks to begin.

You may apply by mail, by telephone, or in person. Once a person is interviewed by phone, the rest may be handled by mail. The best times to call the office to assure prompt service is during the latter part of the month, on Thursday or Friday, and in the afternoon.

A person applying for retirement benefits should have his or her Social Security card or a record of the number; an official record of birth or baptism recorded early in life or other evidence by birth; a copy of his or her W-2 form for the last year; or if self-employed, a copy of the self-employment tax return for the last year since recent reports may not yet be in the records. If spouses and children are also eligible, evidence may also include a marriage license for a spouse and birth certificates of spouse and children.

People who have questions about retirement should call the Social Security office. That number is 826-6371.

Learning about Nature

The Township of Kingston, in observance of National Fire Prevention Week, awarded to the Westmoreland Elementary School in Trucksville a Certificate of Appreciation from the National Fire Protection Agency (NFPA). At the certificate presentation are, from left, Fred A. Potzer, Township Manager; William Eck, Chief, Trucksville Volunteer Fire Department; Samuel Barbose, Westmoreland Principal; Fire Safety Officer Gary E. Beisel; and Police Chief Paul M. Sabol.

Turner named advisor

John Turner, chairman of the social studies department at Dallas High School, has been appointed as the Senior Class advisor for the current school year.

The announcement was made by Frank Galicki, assistant principal at the senior high in charge of daily operations. Galicki said the appointment was made last Thursday after Turner agreed to the terms of the job description.

Although the position will not be official until the School Board votes on the appointment at the November monthly session, Turner has begun duties.
