

School

Dallas school news

ANGELA CHIARUCCI is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Chiarucci of 71 Wyoming Ave., Dallas. At Dallas, Angela is a member of the Honor Society and the Yearbook Committee and for the past three years has been a member of the basketball team.

After high school Angela plans to attend college and is thinking of entering the pediatrics field. When not working hard in school, Angela enjoys dancing at the Live Wire, attending high school sporting events and babysitting.

KRIS DEWEY is the son of Jean and Bill Dewey of Box 192, RD 3 in Dallas.

In the past Kris has been an N.E.D.T. certificate winner. In his free time he enjoys watching television and working with computers. Kris plans to attend Penn State Wilkes-Barre campus to major in Computer Science.

LOREN WILLIAMS is the son of Richard and Jean Williams of 35 Harford Ave. in Shavertown.

In his freshman year Loren won Districts in track, an N.E.D.T. certificate and an award from the Rossetti Contest. This year he is on the volleyball team and stage manager for the fall play "Enter Pharaoh Nussbaum."

In his leisure time Loren enjoys hunting and fishing and dating his girlfriend. Loren holds down a job at PG&W as a map clerk. He hopes his job will provide some backup experience for a future job.

CONGRATULATIONS to the football team on their 15-2 victory over Lake-Lehman. Despite the muddy field, the guys played an excellent game to keep the Old Shoe at Dallas. Maybe it was that 15 minute pep rally that psyched the guys up.

DALLAS HIGH SCHOOL will present its annual Fall play on November 21 and 22 at 8 p.m. in the school's auditorium. The play is entitled "Enter Pharaoh Nussbaum," and is directed by Donald Hopkins. Tickets at the door are $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for students and senior citizens. Good luck to everyone involved with the production.

Questionnaire seeks input from taxpayers

By CHARLOT M. DENMON
Staff Writer

Under the supervision of John J. Oliver, Lake-Lehman Junior High Principal and Long Range Planning Representative for the district, a questionnaire has been randomly mailed to 500 members in the school district. Of those surveyed, 300 are taxpayers with students currently attending district schools, and 200 are taxpayers with no children in Lake-Lehman schools.

In addition to the random survey of district taxpayers, the questionnaire will be distributed to all faculty members of the district in grades Kindergarten through 12th grade, 300 students in fifth through 12th grades, non-professional staff members, administrators and school board members.

The questionnaire is designed to provide the district's Long Range Planning Committee with input from residents, students, faculty and administration officials about programs and services offered by the district. The information will be used to assist Lake-Lehman School District with its long range planning process for the next five years as mandated by the Commonwealth.

The survey includes questions which will assess the needs of the students such as whether or not they are reading at the level they should be, whether or not they are above or below their grade level; whether or not students are receiving proper needs in mathematics, communication skills, science and technological courses, arts and humanities, grammar, and public speaking? There are also questions pertaining to self-esteem, analytical thinking, understanding, and career fields, how well they believe the students are now doing and what improvements should be made.

Questionnaires will be returned to members of the Long Range Planning Committee and the information will be tabulated and sent to East Stroudsburg State College where it will be combined with standardized tests and EQA's. A determination will then be made as to the best plan to attack the needs in the long range planning survey. It will be late December of this year before a sufficient number of answers are returned to the committee. The Long Range Planning Committee is comprised of district taxpayers, some teachers, administrators, and other volunteers.

Lake-Lehman School District is presently entering the final year of its prior Long Range Plan.

Gate of Heaven news

THE STUDENTS of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades will soon be selling jewelry. The profits made from this sale will go toward future class trips. Many prizes, ranging from micro-calculators to stereo-cassette recorders, will be awarded to benefit the students. Good luck to those taking part in this project!

THE ANNUAL BOOK FAIR at Gate of Heaven will take place this week. Soft-cover books, posters, book markers and miscellaneous items will be sold. The money raised from this sale will help purchase more books for the school library.

THE ANNUAL HOLIDAY FAIR will be held in the beginning of December. Many people are working diligently to help make it a success. Wreaths, Christmas ornaments and decorations, etc., will be sold. Family and friends are welcome.

TONY FINARELLI, 13, the son of Al and Kathy Finarelli, is the student of the week.

His favorite subject is Math. He is on the Gate of Heaven School basketball team and likes to skateboard and play baseball in his spare time.

Next year, Tony plans to attend Bishop O'Reilly High School.

Blue and Gold Club sponsors rock concert

The Bishop O'Reilly Blue and Gold club will sponsor a rock concert at the school Saturday night, Dec. 6, featuring the group "Synch".

The concert will be held from 8 to 11 with all proceeds going to Bishop O'Reilly school. Tickets can be purchased at all Gallery of Sound stores or at the door.

Mud

"Mounts beat the Knights." At a given signal, players ran onto the field, ripping the banner to shreds and running to the visitors' side where they, too, kept moving to keep warm.

The Knights in their shining gold and pure black, waited anxiously to break through their paper banner and get ready to try for the "Old Shoe."

Last minute instructions from the coaches, team captains to the center of the field for the toss of the coin, the Lake-Lehman Alma Mater, the Star Spangled Banner and it was time!

The whistle blew — the kickoff — and the first samples of mud. On every play, uniforms got browner and browner. The game, though exciting, more closely resembled mud wrestling and soon numbers became more and more difficult to see.

Both teams played their hearts out — it wasn't easy with field conditions a rival of either side.

Bands played, cheerleaders cheered and danced, fans coached from the sidelines and the game went on. Freezing or not, most fans stayed to see the outcome.

The outcome, the Old Shoe stays at Dallas for another year, until next November when once again, cousins against cousins, friends against friends, will compete in friendly rivalry for possession of the Old Shoe.

The field is empty, fans are winding home, photographers rushing to darkrooms, reporters to write their stories, players dressing and a football season over for another year.

Did we hear a coach's sigh of relief or was it that of a coach's wife?

Bowling

ADOPT AN END-TABLE...

OR BE A FOSTER FAMILY TO A FEW GOOD LAMPS & CHAIRS!

WE MUST FIND GOOD HOMES FOR OUR FURNITURE!!

After two full weekends of brisk sales, we still have a wide selection of furniture to offer...but find that an unusually large number of end-tables, night-tables, lamps, assorted chairs, mattresses, and box springs have been orphaned. We must find good homes for these items...as well as a variety of living room, dining room, kitchen, and bedroom inventory. If a product has been damaged in the rush, we'll slash prices for the right family. Cash, Visa, MasterCard, and personal checks will be accepted. Also, a local bank will be on hand to accept credit applications.
