New antique shop has goodies for all

Americana Antiques & Gifts, a new antique and gift shop with an Early American 'flavor' owned by Philip and Betsy Pack of Shavertown opened for business recently. The Packs with their son, Philip III, and daughter, Amy, came to the area from Yonkers, N.Y., where Philip was a science teacher in the high school.

He resigned his position as a teacher when he and Betsy decided they wanted to raise their children in a quiet, suburban community.

Since Philip's wife, the former Betsy Bresler, was a native of Kingston where her late parents had operated an antique shop for more than 20 years, the Packs decided to return to the Wyoming Valley area. Philip was familiar with the Back Mountain because when he was younger he used to spend his summers at Harveys Lake and Lake Silkworth. His father now resides in Nanticoke and his sister also lives in the area.

After moving back to the area, the Packs decided to open a business and when they discovered the Dallas location that was where they wanted to locate.

Wed 50 years

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Orner, 36 Burndale Road, Dallas, observed their 50th wedding anniversary on Friday, Nov. 14.

They were married in Calvary Methodist Church, in Frederick, Maryland, November 14, 1936, by Rev. Benjamin F. Meeks.

The couple have one son, C. Robert Orner and two grandsons, Brendan P. and Benjamin R. all of Montrose, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Orner were honored at a dinner party at Irem Temple Country Club, which was hosted by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. Robert Orner.

wide variety of handcrafted items made by local residents. Pack sells the craft items by consignment but he purchases the antiques outright.

There is something for everyone at the Americana — for children, adults, shut-ins, collectors, art lovers-beautiful gifts for all occasions. Christmas items are now arriving daily from the local crafters including woodwork, handmade scarves, stained glass lamps, wall hangings of all kinds, tiny peach-stone baskets and wreaths of all kinds-pine cones, quilted, straw, grapevine, nuts and more.

Crocheted bedspreads and tablecloths, quilts, Raggedy Ann and Andy, Teddy Bears, hand painted and hand decorated cards, quilling items and cut and pierce lamp shades are only a few of the many beautiful handcrafted items which make beautiful and original gifts.

The antiques are just as beautiful and include a player piano, large wardrobe, three piece bedroom suite, desk, oak table and chairs, wash stand, all of which are mouth-watering. Cut glass and antique pieces of china are also on display.

Looking for something different for that special someone-stop in and browse at the Americana. You'll enjoy meeting Philip Pack and his young son, Philip III, and you will probably find that special something you're searching for!
