

Dallas wrestling coach sees more than just the final score

By JOHN HOINSKI
Staff Writer

Not that Dallas High wrestling coach Larry Schuler isn't concerned with the numbers posted on the scoreboard, but there are other factors he gives a little more consideration in determining his team's performance.

"It's important in this sport to watch technique and to make the least amount of mistakes you can," Schuler said. "I don't look at the final score as the final indication of how a team wrestled. You have to look at each individual performance."

Last Saturday, the Mountaineers did not make many mistakes against Valley View in their first meet of the year. And it showed on the scoreboard too, as Dallas went on to a 46-16 exhibition rout over the Cougars.

"We did well potentially, but it was only the first meet of the season and you can't really make a judgment on your team at this stage," Schuler said. "But we are going to get tougher as the season goes on. We have a tri-meet Wednesday (tonight) with Wyalusing and Montrose and we have another tournament over the Christmas holidays. By the time the league starts in January, we will have some good experience under our belts." Before the season began, Schuler felt the team's real strength would be through the middle weights. The grapplers in those weight classes performed as expected on Saturday, but Schuler also had other reasons to smile.

Hockey players honored

Lehman grapplers please coach

Lake-Lehman wrestling coach Ed Ladamus was pleased with the showing his grapplers made last weekend in the Crestwood Tournament.

"We didn't go into the tournament expecting to place first," said Ladamus. "Easton and Lock Haven are two of the better teams in the state. It's better for us to wrestle some of the tougher squads than to go against easy squads just to win."

Ladamus said that, overall, his boys did a good job. Scott Shafer took the heavyweight title, Don Spencer placed third at 167 lbs., Matt Reiner 126, and Dave Guzinski 119, came in fourth. The coach thought there were some weight classes where his boys could have done better but by the same token, they won some bouts he didn't expect them to win.

Ninety-eight pound wrestler Mark Allen, wrestling varsity for the first time, won one bout. He is only a freshman and Ladamus believes he will get better as he goes along. 145-lb.

Chris Frederick and 155-lb. Tim Bernick each won their first
