Napieralski promoted

Dr. Edmund A. Napieralski, professor of English and director of the King's College Honors Program, has recently been named faculty coordinator for further implementation and development of King's new core curriculum and its course-embedded assessment model.

Napieralski will leave his role as director of King's Honor Program and will begin his new assignment September 1, 1988, in addition to his ongoing teaching duties.

His duties will include support and enhancement of a variety of projects including competence growth plans, sophomore-junior diagnostic projects, and senior level integrated assessments. He will also assist core curriculum project teams in examining such areas as expected student learning outcomes, transferring liberal learning skills to specific disciplines and teaching-learning strategies that enable students to become more involved and motivated learners.

A member of the King's College faculty since 1971, Napieralski completed his undergraduate studies at Canisius College of Buffalo and received a Ph.D. from Loyola University of Chicago.

A resident of Shavertown, he and his wife, Evelyn, have three children: Julie, Jay and Laura.

Rebates must be filed

Revenue Secretary Barton A. Fields reminded eligible older Pennsylvanians to file their 1987 Property Tax-Rent Rebate applications before May 15 to ensure that their checks are in the early-July mailing.

The application filing deadline is June 30.

Fields said early receipt of applications will give the Department of Revenue time to notify applicants of any errors, so that additional information can be submitted in time for the July mailing of checks.

The department already has received more than 300,000 applications and expects the final total to top 500,000.

The Property Tax and Rent Rebate program, funded by Pennsylvania Lottery proceeds, offers eligible citizens 65 years or older, widows and widowers 50 years or older, and permanently disabled persons 18 or older a percentage rebate on their paid property taxes or rent.

The income limit is $15,000 for a qualifying household.

Those who qualify will receive rebates of up to $500 and an Inflation Dividend, automatically issued on December, of up to $125.

Applications can be obtained at Area Agencies on Aging, district Revenue offices, senior citizens centers, district legislators' offices, or by calling the Revenue Department's toll-free line: 1-800-SR CLAIM.

Applicants will receive confirmation from the Revenue Department about three to four weeks after filing.

Since 1972, the Pennsylvania Lottery has provided more than $1.98 billion in benefits to eligible Property Tax and Rent Rebate claimants.
