MS Society looking for volunteers

The Multiple Sclerosis Society is putting out a call for volunteers. Individuals or groups or organizations who would like to be supportive of the organization but have not as yet determined in what capacity are encouraged to contact Chris Patterson at the local branch office located at 34 South Main Street, Wilkes-Barre.

"For groups and organizations, even businesses, we have some events like the READ-A-THON campaign, scheduled for this fall; the UGLY Bartender Contest, scheduled July 11 through August 8, for which we need an interested group or individuals to take on the responsibility of presentations."

"We also need a wide range of individuals," she adds, "to stuff envelopes, to run errands, to staff information booths and to help with some of the details of the special events projects, such as, MOMENTS FOR MS and the Residential Campaign. We especially need a couple of volunteers to organize the volunteers."

Patterson emphasizes that not all volunteers can be put to work immediately, and that people can commit themselves to as little or as much time as they like.

"Some volunteers won't be needed until the particular activity they sign for. Others can take on the commitment of working with us throughout the entire year. The important thing for people to realize is that they should not be too offended if they call and give us their names and we don't respond immediately. Likely, we'll spend the next couple of months compiling the lists and as things come up we'll be contacting the necessary people."

To contact Chris Patterson and become a MS volunteer, call 824-7411 or write her at the Multiple Sclerosis Society, 34 S. Main Street, Wilkes-Barre, PA 18701.

Misericordia to host professional Shakespearean play in August

Area residents and tourists will have a unique opportunity to see a Shakespearean play performed and directed by professionals trained in one of the premier theater programs in the world when College Misericordia introduces Theater-On-The-Green.

In late August, Misericordia will host the production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" produced, directed and performed by professionals trained at the National Theatre of Great Britain and other recognized theater institutions. Misericordia's production is an outgrowth of the National Theatre's Summer Acting Programme 1987 when 27 select actors from the United States studied with the directors and actors of the National Theatre. Walter Francis Kelly, instructor of theater at Penn State Wilkes-Barre and one of the 27 chosen to study in the British Program, will produce the Shakespearean comedy.

Directing the play will be Giles Block, a National Theatre Director since 1977, who directed the stage production of "Amadeus" in London, America, Denmark and Japan. His current production is "Macbeth," which was staged in Japan.

"A Midsummer Night's Dream" is a romantic and entertaining play claimed to be among Shakespeare's favorites. The plot centers around a group of lovers whose irrational actions are affected by the intervention of supernatural fairies and a magical love potion. The potion causes a person to fall in love with the first creature seen on awakening. At night in the woods, strange and hilarious events take place as the potion begins a chain of errors.

The fast-paced plot and light-hearted nature of this play make it suitable entertainment for the entire family. Adding to the festivities of the occasion, Theater-On-The-Green will be staged on the lawns of College Misericordia at dusk. Families may bring blankets and picnic meals or sit in the designated chair section. Ticket prices will be based on admission for children and adults.
