Health

Wilkes-Barre General Hospital and the American Cancer Society will co-sponsor a FRESHSTART smoking cessation program beginning Monday, July 18, 7 p.m. at the Thomas P. Saxton Medical Pavilion, 468 Northampton Street, Edwardsville.

The program is free of charge and will be conducted in four one-hour sessions. All classes begin promptly at 7 p.m. Class dates are July 18, July 25, August 1 and August 8.

FRESHSTART utilizes a support group approach to smoking cessation. To register for the program, call the American Cancer Society at 825-7763.

Nesbitt Memorial Hospital will conduct a cancer support group meeting on Tuesday, July 19, at 7 p.m. in the hospital's Chemotherapy Lounge, Second Floor North.

The cancer support group meets twice monthly to provide a forum for cancer patients and family members to discuss their hopes, fears, and concerns. Staff members involved in the treatment of cancer patients will provide assistance in patient understanding and coping with cancer, offer emotional support, initiate group discussions, and explain the various resources available to both the cancer patient and family members.

The public is invited free of charge to share in this learning process as various questions concerning cancer will be discussed.

For more information, call Nesbitt Memorial Hospital at 288-1411, extension 4522.

Nesbitt Memorial Hospital is conducting a Sibling Class for area youngsters who are "expecting" a new baby brother or sister. The program is coordinated by the hospital's Obstetrics and Education Departments.

The Sibling Class will be held on Thursday, July 14 at 7 p.m. in the hospital's Conference Rooms 2 and 3.

For further information and registration, contact the hospital's Obstetric department at 288-1411, extension 4563.

Mercy Hospital introduced a six-part weekly series on Preparation for Childbirth that will take place every Monday night, July 18 through August 15 at 7 p.m. in the lower level of the hospital's Medical Arts Building, 8 Church Street, Wilkes-Barre.

Each two-hour class is designed to assist expectant couples through the last trimester of pregnancy and labor in a confident, cooperative manner by teaching the skills necessary in an environment which encourages mutual sharing and support.

The public is invited, free of charge, to participate in this educational experience. Expectant couples are encouraged to participate in group discussion to help express their individual needs and concerns.

For information, contact the Mercy Hospital Women's Center at 826-3302.
