NEW ADMISSIONS COUNSELORS - Tony Ray Langston and Mary Lou Schilling, Misericordia's new admissions counselors.

Misericordia names two new admissions counselors

College Misericordia recently hired two Admissions Counselors to strengthen the college's recruiting efforts on the eastern Seaboard.

Tony Ray Langston and Mary Lou Schilling will recruit students from throughout Pennsylvania, as well as surrounding states south to Virginia. Through high school fairs and other college programs, they will be responsible for maintaining the college's optimum enrollment. Langston holds a bachelor of science degree in marketing from King's College and resides at Harveys Lake.

Schilling holds a bachelor of arts degree in Spanish with a minor in classical languages from Susquehanna University. She currently resides in Kingston.

Dallas Band Tournament Sunday

The Dallas Band Boosters Association will present its 5th Annual Tournament of Bands Competition on Sunday, Sept. 25, at 1 p.m. at the high school stadium. Bands from Western Wayne, Valley View, Hanover Area, Mid-Valley, Pittston Area, Lake-Lehman, Hazleton, Wyoming Area and GAR will compete for trophies. The Dallas Band will appear in exhibition. Tickets may be purchased at the gate. Admission is $3.00 for adults and $1.50 for students and Senior Citizens. Refreshments will be available.

Sr. Finley to get Sister of Mercy award

Sr. M. Siena Finley, RSM, will be the first recipient of College Misericordia's Sister of Mercy Award. The award will be presented to the Dallas resident on Saturday, Oct. 1, during the college's Homecoming activities.

Sr. Siena has been a faculty member at College Misericordia for the past 15 years, however her involvement in the field of education spans four decades. After years of lecturing and making public appearances, Sr. Siena has developed a reputation as one of the top ethicists of the Mid-Atlantic region.

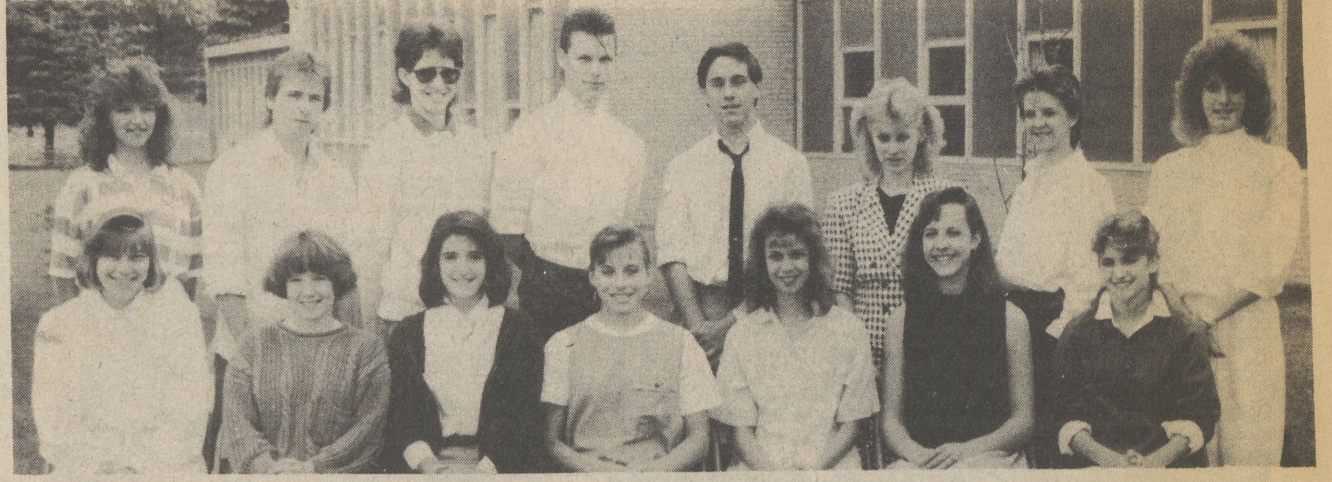

In 1987, Sr. Siena was instrumental in developing the first ethics institute in the area. The Ethics Institute of Northeast Pennsylvania was established to increase understanding of contemporary ethical issues in business, education, government, politics, health care and social services. Through lecture-workshop series, conferences, an ethical resource center and continuing education programs the institute provides a non-partisan forum to exchange ideas and explore major ethical issues in society.

A 1951 alumna of College Misericordia, Sr. Siena also holds a masters degree from Fordham University. She has pursued courses in ethics at Dartmouth, Princeton and Catholic University. Last year, she was awarded the Humanitarian of the Year Award by the Wyoming Valley Interfaith Council. Among her board memberships are the board of directors of the Mercy Care Unit and the board of directors of Mercy Hospital.

Nancy Grimm begins student teaching

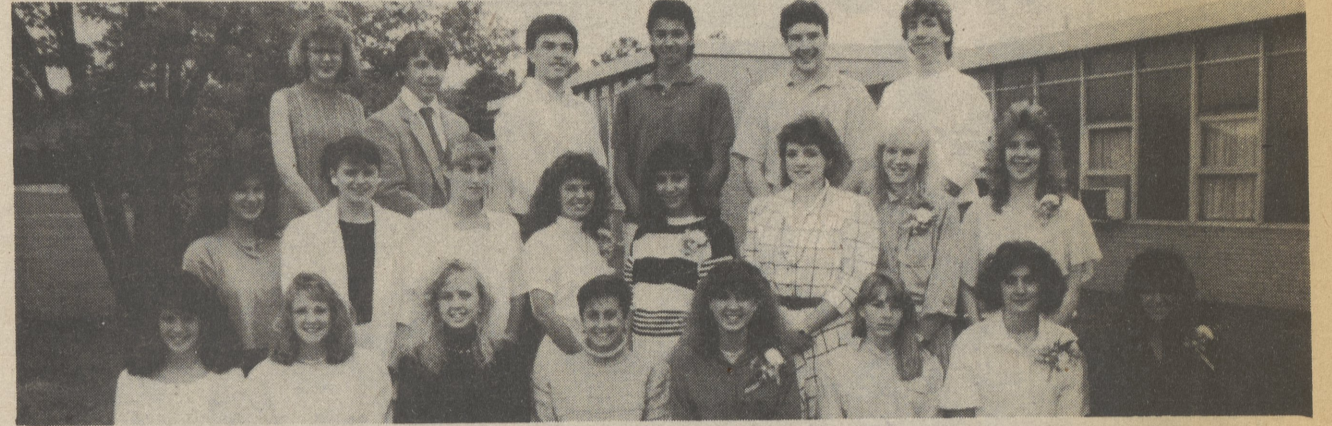

Nancy Grimm, Dallas, is one of 19 Wilkes education majors beginning their student teaching requirements this fall at area elementary and high schools. The students, under the direction of Associate Professor Edwin L. Johnson, will be satisfying their major and educational prerequisites and are student teaching to gain practical experience while fulfilling teacher certification requirements for the State of Pennsylvania.

Wilkes students eligible for teacher certification must have a cumulative grade point average of 2.3 and recommendations from the major department, the Dean of Student Affairs and the Teacher Education Committee.
