Count Basie Group to play at Tunkhannock School

Count Basie Band

The Saxophone Section of the Count Basie Orchestra shown here appears with the 19 piece Basie Band at Tunkhannock High School, Thursday, Oct. 6.

The Count Basie Orchestra, America's prestigious National Jazz Treasure will appear in concert, Thursday, Oct. 6 at Tunkhannock High School, Tunkhannock.

There is not, and likely never will there be, any band as together as the Count Basie Band.

The program will be a blend of the standard favorites of the original Basie Orchestra ("April In Paris", "One O'Clock Jump" and "Jumpin' At The Woodside") interspersed with several new pieces composed by director Frank Foster ("You've Got It"), Wilson's ("Hey, I See You Over There") and Mackrel's ("Bus Dust"). The Count Basie Orchestra show begins at 8 p.m. in the spacious Tunkhannock High School Auditorium, Route 6, Tunkhannock. Admission is $7.00 per person with tickets on sale at the box office the night of the show. Doors will open at 6:30 p.m.

For more information, call Tunkhannock Basie Hot Line 836-6639.

Quilt Show '88

Sheila Giofriddo is proudly displaying her "Welcome Home" quilt for her son, Michael Ross, who was born on July 2 but did not arrive home until September 5, 1988. The 12 blocks in the quilt represent his arrival 12 weeks early. The quilt is a domino and square scrap quilt, totally hand pieced. Sheila and her husband reside on Huntsville Road in Jackson Township and Michael is their first child. This quilt and approximately 165 others, plus additional quilted articles, workshops, free film and slide presentation will be featured at the Quilt Show '88 "Legacy of Quilts" on Saturday, Oct. 8 and Sunday, Oct. 9, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the historic Hayfield House, Penn State Wilkes-Barre Campus, Route 118, Lehman.

Pennsylvania Quilters Show '88 at Penn State

More than a dozen workshops on a variety of quilting techniques will be offered as part of the Pennsylvania Quilters Quilt Show '88, being held Saturday, Oct. 8 and Sunday, Oct. 9 at the Penn State Wilkes-Barre campus in Lehman.

The fourth biennial Quilt Show is entitled "Legacy of Quilts," and will feature hundreds of quilts exhibiting the rich heritage of quilting in American life. Sponsored by the Pennsylvania Quilters Association and Penn State Wilkes-Barre, the quilt show will run from 10 - 6 p.m. both days. Admission is $3.-00.

From the novice to the expert to those who would just like to watch, the displays and the workshops will offer something for everyone. Reservations are required for the workshops which are being coordinated through the Penn State Wilkes-Barre Continuing Education office.

Other guest artists include Gladys Grace, of Pomfret, Conn., who will teach a special workshop on the unique method of stenciling as an art form; Jane Ayres-Barndt, of Pottstown, who will present a lecture "Color: From Theory of Fabric"; and Anna Burrows, of Bowero, quilt director for the Kutztown Folk Festival, who teaches classes on piecing and is a professional marker.

Other workshops include "Getting Started," which will teach the beginner how to make fabric selections, how to use quilting tools and basic how-to-get-started instruction. Instructor will be Donna Goobic.

Machine techniques will be used in the "Cathedral Window Pillow" workshop, by instructor Margie Hovan, who will demonstrate the construction and applique of a 12 inch Cathedral Window pillow top; and in the "Judy's Star" workshop will be Alice Giombetti.

For the traditionalist, the "Crazy Quilt" workshop, and instructor Beverly Marchetti, will show examples of Victorian crazy quilt design and various embroidery stitches used for construction and embellishment, including herringbone, feathers, sheaf, cretan stitch, and French knots.

For further information, contact Donna Todd or Melissa Noderer, Penn State Wilkes-Barre Continuing Education Department, P.O. Box PSU, Lehman, PA 18627 or phone (717) 675-9210 or (800) 426-2358.

Library news

Library Book Club Members plan Fall season

BY NANCY KOZEMCHAK

The first meeting of the Fall season was held by the Book Club of the Back Mountain Memorial Library on Monday, Sept. 19 in the reference room. Florence Crump welcomed members back after the summer holiday, and presided at a brief business meeting. The treasurer's balance was reported by Elin Northrup. Frances Linskill presented a program based on the story of "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star" which was well received by the members. A new member recently joined the Book Club and attended this meeting for her first time and was well liked by the group. Peggy Love, originally from England, had some interesting stories to tell, which were fascinating and everyone enjoyed just listening to her speak. Jane McMichael, a member of the library staff, handled the refreshment committee. The next meeting of the Book Club will be held October 17 at 1:30 in the reference room at the library. Members and guests are invited to attend.

Newbook purchases include: "The Silence In The Garden", by William Trevor which is a spellbinding narrative and a work of art that will grip readers until the very last page. It is a magical, haunting story of family secrets and the legacy of the past which is made luminous by its author's honesty and humanity, with patterns of Irish history.

A story which looks at the contemporary world with the puzzled comic insight of both Rembrandt and Aristotle. This is a lighthearted, free-wheeling jaunt through 2500 years of Western civilization which concludes with the startling realization that not much really has changed in all that time.

"Dr. Spock on Parenting" by Benjamin Spock, M.D. covers everything from sleep problems and anxiety about school to the effects of a new baby on a marriage and the effects of divorce on children. Along the way Dr. Spock shares his strong feelings about our national priorities and the commitments he believes we should make to our great resource, our children. He stays current with the times and knows that today's parents need guidance that goes beyond the physical well-being of young children. This book is in memory of Gertrude Merolli presented by Carole Phifferling and Sallie Price.

"The Horse Owner's Preventive Maintenance Handbook" by Elaine Pascoe explains how physical and psychological stress affects your horse and how you can minimize stress to keep your horse sound. It is a vital book for all horse owners and riders. The book is in memory of William Shuster given by Fino's Pharmacy of Dallas.
