Penn State teleconference will feature Drucker

The Penn State Wilkes-Barre campus will host a teleconference for business professionals and managers, featuring internationally known economics and management consultant, Dr. Peter Drucker. The one-day program, "A Day With Peter F. Drucker", will be held October 13, from 10:45 a.m. to 5:45 p.m., in room 107 the Hayfield House, of the campus in Lehman.

Dr. Peter Drucker, an advisor in economic and business policy and in management organization, is currently Clarke Professor of Social Science and Management at Claremont Graduate School. He is also a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and the American Academy of Public Administration.

This one-day program is divided into three basic sessions, followed by a brief question and answer session. The first session, entitled: "The Organization in Transition: Are the Traditional Functions Obsolete?", will examine the rapid transitions between organizational structures.

The second session is entitled "Economic Development: Its Triumphs, Its Failures, and Its Dilemmas". This session will look at the various economic structures of several countries, including the "four tigers" of Southeast Asia-South Korea, Hong Kong, Singapore, and Taiwan, in comparison with the structures of other countries such as Italy, Spain, and India.

In the third session, "Middle Managers and Professionals: Can Business Regain Their Trust?", Dr. Drucker will discuss the dramatic changes in career opportunities that managers and professionals face, due to the restructurings of companies in recent years.

College Misericordia Job Fair

Representatives from over 110 hospitals and service agencies were on the campus of College Misericordia to recruit area college students in nursing and allied health majors. The shortage of medical and support personnel in the areas of nursing, radiography, occupational therapy, medical technology and social work brought recruiters from as far away as Coral Gables, Florida, and Hartford, Connecticut.
