Arts at Hayfield black tie ball Saturday at Penn State Wilkes-Barre campus

The Big Band sounds of Glenn Miller and Harry James will fill the air at Penn State Wilkes-Barre's Hayfield House, Saturday, Oct. 22, when Arts at Hayfield holds their third Black Tie Ball. Tickets are still available to dance to the sounds of the 18-piece Phi Mu alpha Dance Band, known as one of Penn State University's best musical groups. Tickets are $20.00 per person, and include an elaborate hors d'ouerves buffet, sumptuous dessert table, and refreshments. Dress is black tie optional. For information, contact ball chairperson Judith Brokenshire or tickets chairperson Linda Festa at 675-1613, or the Penn State Wilkes-Barre campus at 675-2171.

This is the third Black Tie Ball for Arts at Hayfield, a non-profit organization dedicated to supporting the arts in the Back Mountain. According to Arts at Hayfield President Dr. Robert Bishop, the first Black Tie Ball was held in 1985, and was more of an informal harvest dance, where "any black tie" would do. In 1986, more people took the black tie option to heart, with more than 50 percent of those in attendance in formal attire.

Montessori students plan spooky Halloween

A scary Haunted House for big kids and a friendly Pumpkin Patch for little kids are being built by the parents of the Wyoming Valley Montessori School in Kingston.

Friday and Saturday nights, Oct. 21, 22, 28, 29 from 6:30 to 9:30, big kids will be led through 13 creepy and exciting rooms including Frankenstein's Laboratory and Dracula's Castle. Cost is $2.00 per child and $3.00 per adult.

The Pumpkin Patch, held in the former church sanctuary will offer pumpkins, a fortune teller, grab bags, games, refreshments and children are invited to come in costume to have their pictures taken. On Saturday, Oct. 29 at 3 p.m. a Costume Parade will be held with prizes.

The Montessori School is located on Market and Maple Sts. in Kingston, three blocks west of Kingston Corners. Use parking lot and rear entrance. For more information, you may call the school at 288-3708.
