By CHARLOT M. DENMON
Staff Writer

Neighborhood 25 Girl Scouts of the Penns Woods Council have selected a name for their new Day Camp to be held June 24 through June 30 at Frances Slocum State Park.

Lisa Barrett, Brownie from Troop 635 had the winning entry in the "Name the Camp" contest. She submitted the name "Mocanaquah", which was Frances Slocum's Indian name. Lisa also designed a beautiful flag for the neighborhood's first annual Day Camp.

Amy Samuels of Troop 329 was first runner up. She designed a flag which was selected to be the official flag of the Sparrow Patrol. Both girls will receive a campership to Camp Mocanaquah as a thank you from the scouts in the neighborhood.

All Girl Scouts in Neighborhood 25 (Shavertown and Trucksville) and non-scouts as space permits, are welcome to attend. The camp will feature activities from the five worlds of scouting. The campers will also learn about Northeastern Pennsylvania and its early inhabitants.
