the contracts to specific companies. "Giving a Notice of Intent" is neither awarding nor releasing other bidders," Jones said. Based on Jones explanation, the board approved the Notice of Intent to award the contracts to Ruth Construction for plumbing, heating and air conditioning; Rogan Electric for electrical work and Inter-Co, West Pittston, general contractor.
Wayne Thomas, of Environmental Abatement Associates, told the board that the tiles in the remedial gym of the junior high school were disturbed by someone over the weekend. Because prompt precautions were taken to close off the area, Thomas said tests conducted Monday showed asbestos levels below those that would have required any action.

He said he believes the remedial area should be dealt with by removing all of the tiles.

Thomas also recommended having specifications written up for removal of all of the asbestos and put out on bid to get specific cost.

Wycallis reported on the request for a girls soccer team for next spring. The request was made by parents who attended last week's work session. He said the athletic director was investigating how many junior and senior high girls would be interested in the program and what fields would be available, and a decision would be forthcoming in the future.

Cafeteria employee Mary Law asked Chairman Ernest Ashbridge about finances and contracts for the cafeteria. Solicitor Jones interceded and told Mrs. Law that all services were the responsibility of Service America. "Contracts, etc. are the business of the food service under Act 195," Jones told Mrs. Law. "I have instructed the board members not to become involved."

At that point, Carol Adams asked "Are we not sheltered under Act 195?" Jones replied he had no idea since he was never involved. Adams persisted and stated that Mrs. Law had not inquired about employees but about the food service's standing with the district and the condition of the cafeteria financially.

Adams said there was a loss last year when ARA was in charge of the cafeteria and asked if there was a loss this year under the new service.

Cafeteria chairman James Richardson said that at the end of June, 1988, ARA showed a loss of $27,000 and that his April 30 report this year showed a loss of $15,000, but he said he will not know the final total until the end of the school term.

Wycallis told Adams that there are problems, that the district is aware of the fact that type A lunches are down and the A la Carte items are up. He said that the district is conducting a survey to try to find the answers out why.

The district awarded the bid to Service America last Fall with the option to renew the contract or put it out for bid, 60 days prior to August 1.

In other business the board:
• Approved a list of 103 girls and 113 boys for graduation.
• Approved a Driver Theory Class in the Dallas Senior High School during the summer.
