Misericordia wins grant for "second-career" women

The Charlotte W. Newcombe Foundation has awarded College Misericordia a Scholarship Grant for mature second-career women students in the 1989-90 academic year. Partial tuition, special expenses, and off-campus internship scholarships may be funded from the grant.

Misericordia was one of 33 colleges and universities to receive grants. Misericordia has been awarded Newcombe Grants in the past, but this year's award represents an increase in support. The increase, according to Janet A. Fearon, executive director of the Foundation, indicates the Newcombe Trustees' satisfaction with the college's handling of past grants. "This grant is made in recognition of the excellent support services which College Misericordia is providing to mature returning women."

According to Dr. Bruce Wilson, acting president at Misericordia, "Our college understands the financial needs of returning adult students. The Newcombe Foundation Grant assists us in providing quality education to the women of the Wyoming Valley."

The Charlotte W. Newcombe Foundation of Princeton announced grants totaling $645,000 to large and small educational institutions including: The American University, Fordham University, Villanova University and Widener University.

Dallas schools request early registration for all classes for 1989-1990 school year

The Dallas School District is requesting the cooperation of parents with children of school age who have not registered for the 1989-1990 school year.

It is essential that the district be informed, as soon as possible, of all new students planning to register, especially the kindergarten and first grade students.

Problems occur with class and school building assignments as well as transportation arrangements when students are registered late. Parents of new students or those transferring from other schools are strongly encouraged to register their children immediately. Late elementary registrants may not be assigned to the most convenient school building.

All kindergarten through 5th grade students are to register at the Administration Building, Church St., Dallas. Junior and
