United Methodist hymn sing planned

The Bloomingdale United Methodist Church will have a Service of Dedication and Hymn Sing on Sunday, July 23 at 7 p.m. The purpose of the service is to dedicate the new United Methodist Hymnals, all of which have been given in honor or in memory of loved ones, including former pastors. A new hymnal was designed which would be more sensitive to the needs and spiritual temperament of the church today. The hymnal includes more popular, contemporary gospel songs such as those by Bill and Gloria Gaither, spirituals and even songs in Spanish.

The general public is invited to attend.

Eclectic show of art at United Penn

Works of art by David Randazza are now on display in the lobby of the United Penn Bank, Main Street, Dallas.

Randazza works in pen & ink, acrylic, watercolor, enamel as well as woodburning. His art is distinctive for such a young artist, and he has won numerous prizes. A graduate of Tunkhannock High School and LCCC, Randazza's love of animals comes through clearly in his art. He also enjoys hiking and motorcycling and his art reflects his interests. He is exhibiting some of his popular woodburnings, which have earned him recognition in a magazine interview as well as prizes and commissions.

He has exhibited at the Kirby Center with LCCC and also at the Luzerne County Fall Fair. As "Razz's Signs" his art work turns into lettering, graphics and striping. The care and exacting specifications demanded in the sign business comes through in his fine art.

"Razz" a resident of Dallas, has been drawing with a serious goal in mind since fifth grade. He is now waiting to hear from a popular nationally known magazine concerning acceptance of one of his paintings for its cover.

The public is invited to view Randazza's work on display at the United Penn Bank in Dallas throughout the month of July during regular banking hours.
