Girl Scouts hold first day camp

Penn's Woods Girl Scout Council, Neighborhood 25 of Trucksville and Shavertown, recently held its first annual Day Camp. The neighborhood held a name the camp contest. The winning entry "Camp Mocanquah" was submitted by Lisa Berrett, a Brownie from Troop 712.

Approximately 100 Girl Scouts attended the week long camp held at Frances Slocum State Park. The theme of the camp was "Pioneer Days". The program's goal was to increase the girls understanding of both Native Americans and the Early Settlers. Ms. Carol Tchaikowsky of the Dennison Homestead presented a special program on what it was like to be a child living in the colonial period. Activities included nature programs, hikes, swimming, singing, games and crafts. The Girl Scouts, who will be going into the seventh grade, participated in a special advanced program which included an overnight camp out. Cadette Girl Scouts acted as program aides for the younger Scouts. The camp provided the Scouts with summer fun and an opportunity to appreciate the early history of our area.
