Many of last year's high school stars continuing in college

By CHARLOT M. DENMON

With the 1989 High School fall sports programs less than a month away, one might wonder just what plans last year's fall senior athletes have in store.

A survey of these athletes whose names appeared regularly in the media in 1988 turned up some surprising statistics. Those 1988 Fall athletes who graduated in June from either Lake-Lehman or Dallas High School were much more than athletes. Most were also top academic students, the majority of whom will attend college this year, many on academic or athletic scholarships, or both.

Seven of the Lake-Lehman graduates, who have committed themselves to higher education by way of scholarships or grants-in-aid are Len Annetta, four year varsity football and basketball player, who will attend Bloomsburg State University. Len, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Annetta, was an honor student and was sought by many schools before deciding on Bloomsburg.

Stanley Simms, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Simms, and a talented player will attend Clarion where he plans to play football and Chris Engel, who played varsity football and baseball at Lake-Lehman, will attend Penn State Main Campus to play baseball. It is our understanding that Chris, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Engel turned down a scholarship to Bucknell to play football in order to go out for his first love, baseball.

Scott Shafer, who graduated from Lake-Lehman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Shafer, waited a year before picking up his scholarship to play football at Mansfield State University. Rob Michaels, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Michaels, will attend Temple University, on a scholarship, where he hopes to play football. Like the other seniors Rob is a top honor student.

Rich James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard James, who excelled in both football and baseball at Lake-Lehman, plans to attend Wilkes College where he has opted to play baseball. Wilkes College does not give scholarships but they do offer Grants-in-aids to students who excel academically and athletically.

Frank Coslett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Coslett, will sit out this fall and red shirt until his sophomore year.

The Lake-Lehman 1988 senior football players received more than $100,000 in scholarships in addition to grants.

12 FROM DALLAS WILL CONTINUE SCHOOLING

Twelve of the 18 senior football players who graduated from Dallas High School in June have decided to continue their education, at least 12 that we were able to confirm.

Scott Horoschko, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Horoschko, has been accepted and will receive a grant-in-aid to Delaware College where he plans to play football and major in agriculture. Jerry Ogurkis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ogurkis, will attend Millersville University where he plans to major in criminal justice and also play football. Ogurkis also excelled in wrestling.

Jim Lister, son of Mrs. Angela Lister, received a grant-in-aid from Wilkes College where he plans to major in business administration as well as play football. Lister also excelled in soccer at Dallas for several years.

Ron Post, son of Ronald Post and Joann Post, received a scholarship to Ithaca College where he plans to major in political science. He also plans to play football. Post was also an outstanding wrestler at Dallas. Jay Cherup, son of John Cherup, has accepted a scholarship to Wyoming Seminary where he will plan to continue his education prior to attending an Ivy League college. Shawn Ruth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ruth, will attend Fairleigh-Dickinson where he plans to major in business administration and he also hopes to play football.

Other football seniors who have decided where they will continue their education are Mark Paczewski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Paczewski, outstanding player, who has registered at Wilkes College but is undecided whether or not he will play football although he is leaning toward doing so; Scott Starbuck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Starbuck, an honor student will attend Bloomsburg but is undecided about his major; John Gregg, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gregg, who finished his senior year with a 4.0 average, fifth in his class, and had a 3.8 average for his high school years. He plans to attend Penn State Main Campus and major in engineering.

Seth Roskos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Roskos, an honor roll student with a 3.5 average or better, will attend Grove City College where he plans to major in engineering. Ralph Rostock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rostock, also an honor student, will attend Scranton University, where he plans to major in computers.

Philip George, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter George, also a high academic student, decided to enlist in the United States Navy and continue his education while serving his country. He enlisted and left for service July 11. He will continue his higher education and complete whatever is necessary when discharged.

Other seniors who participated in Fall sports and have continued their education are five members of the Dallas High School soccer team. Mike McDermott, son of Mrs. Camille McDermott, will attend Penn State University where he plans to play soccer. Dale Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Morris, an honor student, will attend Wilkes College where he will major in electrical engineering and also hopes to play soccer. Matt McQuaid, unfortunately has moved from the area but has planned to attend college and play soccer, if possible.

Tom Shone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Shone is continuing his education at Penn State Main Campus where he plans to major in business administration or economics and possibly play soccer. Jonathan Ursiak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ursiak, will attend the local campus of Penn State University where he plans to major in business administration and also play soccer.

Lake-Lehman Coach Ray Dennis was out of town but according to information we were able to obtain, there were only two seniors on the Knights soccer team, Al Manzoni, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Manzoni, who will attend Penn State Wilkes-Barre Campus to major in engineering. Manzoni was a top academic student. The other senior was Eric Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Smith, who will attend Kutztown State University. Eric is a straight A student but has not yet decided on his major. He does plan to play soccer.

Two seniors who excelled on the Dallas field hockey team were Sue Wells and Juliann Orlowski. Sue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wells, will attend Bucknell where she plans to major in biology and also play field hockey. Juliann Orlowski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Orlowski, will attend Villanova University.

Senior Tracy Hunter also played field hockey but she will attend College Misericordia on a scholarship where she plans to play softball. Tracy is the daughter of Karen Hunter and Harry Hunter.

Senior field hockey players from Lake-Lehman who plan to attend college are Karen White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph White, salutatorian of the class, who plans to attend the University of Pennsylvania; Carolyn James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman James, who will attend Old Dominion on a scholarship and plans to play hockey and Julie Hess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Hess, will attend Syracuse University on a full scholarship where she plans to play field hockey.

The senior athletes of the Fall boy's cross country team at Dallas High School had some outstanding runners during their last season which enabled the boys to win districts and also place second in the state competition. Not only were these boys excellent athletes but top academic students as well.

Hugh Mundy, son of Atty. and Mrs. Hugh F. Mundy, not only ran in the cross country competition but also took the gold medal in the boys state track competition. An excellent academic student, Hugh will attend Notre Dame University. Jared Samuel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Samuel plans to attend University of Delaware. Both boys plan to continue their running. John Aston, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Aston, will go to Shippensburg but is not certain what he will pursue as his major. He also plans to continue running as does Jamie Strange, son of Jane Griffin, who will attend Penn State's Main Campus. Jamie decided to become a member of the ROTC while in college but he also hopes to run. Walter Fader, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Fader, an excellent student, will attend Lehigh University where he plans to major in engineering. Like his high school teammates, he plans to continue running in college. Michael Dzanko, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Dzanko, has received a full scholarship to Juniata College and was among the students Juniata sent on a summer trip to England. He hopes to continue running cross country, if at all possible. Jim Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Monty Evans, was also an honor student and will attend Wilkes College, where although they do not have cross country, do have track in which he hopes to participate.

A large percentage of athletes are continuing their education this Fall and most of them are high school students who participated in the athletic programs of the school. A wise choice, perhaps, since in order to participate in sports at the local schools the students must keep their marks above average.

The students names are only those who participated in Fall sports since it is that time of the year. There are many more continuing their education who participated in winter and spring programs, so when athletes are publicized it appears so, too, are the academic students and top students at that.

Back Mountain A wins first Kubis tournament

The Back Mountain A team took the championship in the first annual William W. Kubis Memorial Tournament for 11-year-olds held at the Back Mountain field July 2 through August 3 by defeating Hanover 8-4 in the final game, Thursday, August 3 at the Back Mountain field.

Eight teams participated in the tournament including Parsons, Pittston, Bob Horlacher, Hanover, Swoyersville, Exeter, Back Mountain A and Back Mountain B.

The tournament opened July 22 with Swoyersville defeating Parsons 14-12, Bob Horlacher taking Hanover 10-6, Back Mountain A shutting out Exeter 14-0 and Pittston edging Back Mountain B 8-7 in a come-from-behind exciting game.

Action continued July 23 in the double elimination tournament with Hanover defeating Parsons 14-11 and Back Mountain B eliminating Exeter 18-2.

Swoyersville defeated Bob Horlacher 20-14, July 24 and Tuesday, July 25, Back Mountain A took Pittston 11-2. Bob Horlacher boys were eliminated Wednesday, 7-1, by Back Mountain B and Thursday, July 27, Hanover moved on by nipping Pittston 4-3 in a well-played competitive game.

In two games played Saturday, July 29, Back Mountain A remained undefeated by taking Swoyersville 14-3 and Hanover eliminated Back Mountain B by a 16-2 score. Hanover advanced to play Swoyersville, July 30, and eliminated the West Side team by shutting them out 4-0, behind Joe Duran who pitched a no-hit game.

The win by Hanover set up a championship game between Hanover and undefeated Back Mountain A for Wednesday, August 2. Hanover with pitcher Torey Yasler on the mound came back from trailing 7-2 to post an 11-8 win forcing a final game in the double elimination tourney on August 3. This game matched Hanover's Joe Duran against Back Mountain A's ace pitcher John Oliver, who chalked up two wins early in the competition, one of them a one-hitter.

In the first inning, Oliver connected for a single to drive in Brian Berlew who was on base with a walk. Fred Maier and Griffen Bicking each drove out RBI singles in the second inning to give the team a 3-0 lead but in the bottom of the second Hanover rallied to take a 4-3 lead with hits from Ron Tribendis and Sterling Kepp.

In the third inning, Back Mountain came back with a single by Oliver and an RBI double by Rich Klick. Oliver held down the Hanover team while the Back Mountain team came back in the fourth inning to break loose for four runs helped by RBI hits by Jason Seward, Carlo Santarelli and two RBI's by J.R. Brooks. The Back Mountain boys ended their scoring in the sixth inning with hits by Oliver and Klick to give the team their 8-4 win and the tournament championship.

Oliver pitched the entire game giving up only three hits and striking out eight. He also helped win the game by going four-for-four at the plate.

"The great thing about the Back Mountain wins during the tournament and their final win in the tournament is that everyone on the roster contributed to the success," manager Rick Klick said.

"One of the highlights of the tournament was the unveiling of the sign in ceremonies Wednesday, August 2, identifying the Back Mountain field as the W.W. 'Bill' Kubis Memorial Field as a tribute to a man who was Back Mountain's No. One fan and a great supporter of Little League Baseball and the kids who play it," said Back Mountain Baseball president Don Berlew.

"He was a great supporter of all Back Mountain athletes and we miss seeing him at our games but we know that he is still supporting the kids in spirit and that he would be pleased that we named the field as a memorial to him," Berlew concluded.

Former Dallas High soccer star Dale Morris to attend Wilkes College this fall

Former Dallas High School soccer star Dale Morris has decided to continue his academic and athletic career at Wilkes College this fall.

Morris, a three year starter for coach John McCafferty, was team captain this past season and a member of the league all-star squad. He helped the Mountaineers capture two straight District Two titles and finish second in the state in 1987 in his three years. In addition he also played in the NAS Cup All-Star game at Lackawanna County Stadium this past June.

Wilkes College soccer coach Phil Wingert is looking forward to having Morris as a member of the Colonels this fall.

"Dale is going to strengthen our midfield or defense," said Wingert.

"He comes from a good local high school program (Dallas) and has been taught good work habits by coach McCafferty. I'm looking forward to August 20 when we have our first practice."

Morris will be joining another Dallas graduate, goalkeeper John Sheehan, as a member of the Wilkes soccer team.

While at Dallas, Morris was a member of the Honor Roll and was named to Who's Who Among High School students.

At Wilkes, Morris, son of David and Carole Morris of Trucksville, will major in electrical engineering.

Yacht Club posts race results

The Harveys Lake Yacht Club held its regular Sunday Comet sailboat race on August 6. The race began at 11 a.m. at the Yacht Club and was sailed as a shortened Gold Cup course under light air.

Race committee chairman, Frank Wadas, posted the following results: 1st place, Jack C. Barnes and crew Charles Wasserott V.; 2nd place, skipper Joan Williams and crew Jane Harter. Dr. Lane Giddings and crew did not finish.

The Comet race on August 13 will start at 11 a.m. at the Club-house followed by a Phantom Regatta at 2 p.m. for club members.

Area youths attend roundball camp

Back Mountain youngsters made up one of the major contingents at the annual King's College summer basketball camp in Scandlon gym.

Top speakers from the Philadelphia area, including Ron Anderson of the 76ers highlighted the camp.

Coach Ken Atkins of King's was director.
