Kimberly Thompson wins Wilkes College scholarship

The four students who were named as the Wilkes College Grace C. Kimball Scholars for the 1989-90 academic year, have a sincere love of Biology, and show a wide range of diversity in their interests both in and out of academic life.

For Kimberly Thompson of Dallas, time for extra curricular activities was used for such pursuits as Student Council, Yearbook Staff, Chorus, Strutters, and a good deal of time spent in the drama department of Dallas High School, having three dramatic roles as well as being on the ticket, construction and prop committees.

Kimberly has also been in many leadership roles, highlighted by being selected for Junior Leadership, the Youth Salute, and the Wilkes College Young Scholars Program.

"Kim was never satisfied with a superficial understanding of a topic. She would always research subject matter and do related lab work until she would feel she had sufficient background to go onto the next area of study," said William R. Helgemo, Sr., a Chemistry teacher at Dallas Senior High School.

The scholarship is determined in three parts. All candidates are expected to turn in two letters of recommendation, an essay entitled "The Biologist I Most Admire," and the high school transcript. The scholarship awards $1000 for the first year for incoming Biology majors.

The scholarship which was first endowed in 1985 is named for Dr. Grace C. Kimball who was a member of the Biology faculty at Wilkes.

He joined the Navy in July 1985.

Adopt-a-pet

She is a mer seven weeks old, an adorable poodle mix, who was abandoned in Pittston. She doesn't have a name so some dog lover could give her a good home, a namo to suit her and a lot of love.

The petite black and white puppy has had its shots. She is gentle and likes to play and will make a wonderful pet.

Just stop in at the SPCA, 524 East Main St., Fx Hill, Wilkes-Barre, to visit her. You won't want to leave without her, or call 825-4111 for more information.
