Tudor Books to host area authors on Oct. 29

The Tudor Book Shops are hosting authors' parties on Sunday, Oct. 29 to celebrate books of local interest. More than 20 authors will attend a wine and cheese party from 1-2:30 p.m. at the Tudor Bookshop at 651 Wyoming Avenue, Kingston.

Realizing the strong interest in books about our local history and books written by area authors, the owners of the Tudor Books Shop, Lynn Gonchar and Barbara Shaffer thought these talented writers should be brought together to meet their readers. They will achieve that on Sunday, Oct. 29.

"I believe this is the first time so many authors who are either from our area or have written books about Northeastern Pennsylvania will be in one place at one time. We, as well as, the authors are excited about this opportunity," says Gonchar. "And I think it will be a wonderful time for the reading public to meet with such a variety of authors. It will be a unique chance for a literary, cultural and social exchange."

The authors will include: Catherine Gourley, "Courtship of Joanna"; Al Groh, "Miracle of Creation"; Jan Kubicki, "Breaker Boys"; Donald Miller and Richard Sharpless, "Kingdom of Coal"; Mary Wazeter, "Dark Marathon"; and Paul Williams, "Everything You Always Wanted to Know About the Catholic Church".

The public is invited to attend these special events. There is no admission costs. Books purchased in advance and those reserved by prepayment will be autographed first at each party because of time limitations.

Heating funds available from county

Applications for this winter's Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) are now available at the Luzerne County Assistance Office, Nicholas D. Volpetti, Acting Executive Director, announced recently.

"Applications were mailed to 14,000 families who received LIHEAP help last winter and have incomes up to 150 percent of the federal poverty level. If a family did not apply for LIHEAP last year, applications are available for this year's program," said Volpetti.

"Large families who receive mail-in applications to return the completed form promptly to the County Assistance Office."

Homes may be owned or rented and it does not matter what type of fuel is used for heat. No lien is placed on the home.

LIHEAP makes payments primarily to fuel vendors on behalf of households. A crisis component provides help for households experiencing an emergency such as a furnace breakdown, lack of fuel, or a utility service shutdown.

Last winter, 13,600 households in Luzerne County received $3,650,000 through LIHEAP, to help offset their heating bills. Applications for LIHEAP crisis assistance totaled 1,736, with $290,652 being provided to households with a heating emergency.

Household size and maximum income limits for LIHEAP benefits are: one person, $8,970; two persons, $12,030; three persons, $15,090; four persons, $18,150; five persons, $21,210; six persons, $24,270; and $3,060 for each additional person in the family.

LIHEAP grants are based on the size of the family, the family's income, the primary type of fuel used for heating and the geographic location of the household.

Help for families with a heating emergency is available 24 hours a day by contacting the Commission on Economic Opportunity (CEO), telephone 826-0510.
