Dallas Middle School to hold special sessions

The Dallas Middle School will hold mini-sessions to observe American Education Week on Wednesday, Nov. 15, beginning at 7 p.m. in the auditorium. The scheduled mini-sessions will deal with middle-level students and support groups available within the community. The mini-sessions are as follows:

"Parenting Skills for Parents of Middle School-Age Students" conducted by Mr. Robert Musser from Family Service Association of Wyoming Valley.

"Current Drug and Alcohol Trends in our Youth" conducted by Stefanie M. Wolownik from Wyoming Valley Alcohol and Drug Services.

"Mental Health Services Available to Adolescents" conducted by Mr. Dan Fitzsimmons from Children's Service Center of Wyoming Valley.

"Stress with the School-Age Child" conducted by Joanne Keiser from Children's Service Center of Wyoming Valley.

"Computers in the Middle School" conducted by John Wega, Computer Coordinator of the Dallas School District.

The public is invited to attend this American Education Week observance at the Dallas Middle School.

Honors band students selected from Dallas

Six students from the Dallas Middle School have been selected to participate in the Marywood College Junior High Honors Band. The students are: Megan Stair, flute; Holly Randolph, trumpet; Ryan Moss, trombone; Kris Kaleta, clarinet; Amy Beardsworth, flute; and Valerie Prother, French Horn.

The Honors Band was established in 1982 to give talented junior high students the chance to perform with other talented junior high students from across the state of Pennsylvania. This band will consist of 150 students from 25 junior high schools.

The students were selected on the basis of experience and director evaluation. While at Marywood the students will audition against each other for sectional seating and they will also rehearse for two days. The festival will take place Dec. 1 and 2 and will conclude with a banquet to honor the students and a concert Dec. 2 at 7 p.m. in the Marywood College Performing Arts Center. The concert is free and open to the public. For more information contact Marywood College at 348-6268.

Poinsettia sale will provide trip funds

The American Field Association of the Dallas Senior High School is conducting its annual sale of poinsettia plants. Proceeds from the sale will be applied to expenses incurred for the field trip to historic sites of New England in May of 1990.

Forty students will travel, with high school educators, to the Mayflower II, Plymouth Plantation, the Island of Nantucket, the first landing site of the Pilgrims at Provincetown, and numerous museums during the four-day field studies of historic New England. En route, students will visit the Roosevelt Library and Museum in New York, and Mystic Seaport Aquarium in Connecticut.

Large poinsettia plants with 4+ blooms are available for $10.00 each; extra large, double plants are available for $15.00 each. Student participants will happily accept orders through November 28; delivery is scheduled for December 7. Interested community members are invited to phone the senior high school for further information, or to place orders.

Dallas logo contest winners named

The Dallas Middle School student body recently completed a contest to design a logo, which will be used to commemorate the 20th anniversary of the middle/junior high school. The winning logo will be used as the symbol for all anniversary events, and will be used as the cover of the memory book. The grand prize winner was Casey Kernag, who received a $100 Savings Bond. Each grade winner won a $50 Savings Bond.

Davis chosen for participation in Wilkes' intercollegiate leadership

There is an old saying, that leaders are not born—they are made. Seven students from Wilkes College have been chosen to participate in a program which helps to make leaders. These students will participate in Intercollegiate Leadership.

The students chosen for the program include, Cherie Davis, a native of Dallas. Ms. Davis is a senior Business Administration major concentrating in Marketing. She has been co-captain of the cheerleaders for the past two years. Davis is also involved with the Commuter Council, the Women's Athletic Association, the freshman orientation program and the Wilkes Judicial Council.

The class of 1933 at Bryn Mawr College includes 327 students who come to campus from 42 states and 22 foreign countries. Sixty-two percent of this year's freshman class graduated from public secondary schools, 38 percent from independent and foreign schools.

Cum Laude students inducted at Wyoming Seminary School

Eight Wyoming Seminary seniors were inducted into the school's Cum Laude Society at a recent ceremony.

The seniors honored were Heather Conyngham, Bear Creek; Danielle Baker, Dallas; Kim Johns, Wyoming; Leena Shah, Dallas; Mary Ann Gaska, Saudi Arabia; Kim Kozemchak, Wilkes-Barre; Michele Park, Mountaintop and Ketan Desai, Mountaintop.

Students are selected from the top 10% of the senior class, and must maintain a 3.5 average. Following their induction, they become members of the National Cum Laude Society. Wyoming Seminary has been a member of the National Society since 1930.

Host families needed

Intercambio Internacional de Estudiantes, a cultural exchange program established in 1959 by Father Placid Reitmeier, is desperately seeking host families for boys ages 13-17 from Costa Rica for eight weeks beginning December 9. The aim of Intercambio is to provide young people with an understanding of one another's culture and with establishing lifelong friendships.

Coming from a middle-class Central American background, the students arrive with medical insurance and spending money. All you need provide is room, board, acceptance into your family, and, most of all, your love. This experience also provides the host family with the wonderful opportunity of learning Spanish while the student gains a working knowledge of English during the stay. They will attend school with host brothers and sisters even though they will be on vacation in their own countries at the time.

Also needed are host families for students ages 12-17 from Panama who will arrive in February for a six-week stay. Intercambio offers a similar summer program for Mexican students as well.

If you are interested in opening your heart and your home to a student sponsored by Intercambio, please call Barbara Kocher at 477-3591 or Dianne Cohen at 287-7607.
