'Little people' entertain and enjoy at Christmas show

The Walsh Auditorium at College Misericordia was filled Saturday with "Little People" and their friends and families as Christmas joys were spread.

The auditorium, which is usually occupied by college students, was the setting for the Little People Day Care annual Christmas program under the direction of Miss Kohler.

Little people aged from toddlers to kindergarten and even older performed. Songs, poems, rocking around the Christmas tree and even a night before Christmas play was presented to a very receptive audience. Laughter, singing along, cameras clicking and camcorders were the only noises heard from the background - a sure sign that a lot of proud Moms and Dads; Grams and Pop Pops were on hand to enjoy their favorite little person.

Class A was directed by Miss Warmouth and Mrs. Nattress. Class B, Miss Monaco and Mrs. Lamoreaux and Mrs. Smith; Kindergarten, Mrs. Pribula and Miss Stanulis. After School Group, Miss Stanulis.

After a two hour program there were thousands of beautifully decorated homemade cookies waiting to be enjoyed.

Between the program and refreshments a jolly Santa came prancing down the center aisle, ringing his always welcome bells and seated himself center stage. Out of nowhere came hundreds of beautifully wrapped presents, one for every child in the program. Eyes grew larger and smiles broader as the little people patiently waited their turn in line for a seat on Santa's lap and their first Christmas present of the year.
