APPEARING AT PENN STATE SUNDAY

Comedy mimes at Penn State Sunday

Penn State Wilkes-Barre will present Dr. Tom & Seus, comedy mime team, Sunday, Jan. 14, at 2 p.m. at the Penn State Wilkes-Barre Bierly Auditorium. The program is free and open to the public.

This delightfully entertaining program for children as well as adults blends live music and verbal patter to accent the silent world of mime. They take their audience on a trip into a fantastic environment where anything can happen. Combining broad humor, subtle wit, complex themes and artful gestures, Dr. Tom & Seus provide a program that appeals to everyone.

Tom Pierce and Sues Edwards are Dr. Tom & Seus. Pierce began his performing career at age 11 as a self-taught clown in his small home town of Michigan. Never doubting he would make performing his life, he went on to study mime and theater at Florida State University. After completing his studies, he went on to form one of the first mime troupes to perform in such unorthodox venues as nightclubs, colleges and cabarets.

It was in Tallahassee, Florida at his own mime school that Pierce met Sues Edwards, an accomplished musician and dancer. Having received a B.A. in dance from Bennington College, Sues went on to study and apprentice with Pierce. Both Pierce and Edwards have studied and performed with other mimes and companies before beginning their own partnership in 1979.

Since 1979, Dr. Tom & Seus have performed in colleges, theaters, schools and festivals throughout the U.S., Europe, and the Far East. Performance highlights including Wolftrap International Children's Festival, the Buffalo Philharmonic, the 92nd St. "Y" Theater (NYC), International Performing Arts Festival, Hong Kong, and a PBS special of their own concert.

Their performance is free and open to the public as part of the Penn State Wilkes-Barre Cultural Events Series. For more information, call 675-2171.
