Misericordia prof named to statewide committee

Don Skiff, assistant professor of business at College Misericordia, joined the steering committee of the Pennsylvania Society of Teaching Scholars. The newly-formed organization is an outgrowth of the State System of Higher Education Summer Academy for the Advancement of College Education and will work to improve the teaching and learning process at the post-secondary level.

As a member of the steering committee, Skiff will help develop the society's mission statement, by-laws and goals for next year. Initially, membership will only be open to Summer Academy graduates. When the goals and objectives are established, membership will be available to all teaching faculty.

Last August, Skiff was one of only six faculty from Pennsylvania private colleges to attend the first Summer Academy. About 40 private and state university faculty discussed the uses of learning styles in developing education

Nagy leads workshop at national nurse convention

Ellen J. Nagy, a Dallas resident and Director of Community Relations at the Visiting Nurse Association in Edwardsville, presented two workshops at the national meeting of Visiting Nurse Associations of America. More than 200 representatives from Visiting Nurse agencies across the country attended the VNAA's 1990 Annual Meeting, March 7-10 in San Antonio, Texas.

The two workshops led by Mrs. Nagy focused on current trends in marketing in the home care industry. Nagy stated that "With all the improvements in medical technology, the aging of our population, and the high costs of institutional care, there has been a dramatic increase in the need for home health care. Our job at the VNA is to be ready to meet the home care needs of Luzerne County residents in the years to come."

Mary Ann Keirans, VMNA Administrator, stated that the meeting was the largest ever for the coalition which has a membership of 115 nonprofit, community-based home health care agencies. "Visiting Nurse organizations have always assumed a leadership role in the home health care market. In fact, VNA's originated the concept of home care more than 100 years ago and in Luzerne County 82 years ago. We will continue to be the innovators in health care as we move into the next century, and this national meeting reinforced that," said Keirans.

John Jablowski named to "Outstanding" list

For the second consecutive year, John J. Jablowski, Jr. of Hanover Township has been named to the annual list of "Outstanding Young Men in America" by the Board of Directors of the "Outstanding Young Men in America" Association.

The Alabama based association annually selects men between 21 and 40 that have demonstrated outstanding qualities of community leadership, citizenship and achievement.

The Hanover Township resident is currently serving as Public Relations and Communications Director for American Surpac, a multi-million dollar international municipal water treatment system corporation.

Jablowski has recently completed a successful term as chapter president of the Back Mountain Jaycees in which he led the community leadership organization to a number 3 quarterly state finish and a two-fold increase in membership and community activities. Active in community affairs, he is a volunteer firefighter with the Newtown No. 2 Fire Company in Hanover Township, a member of the Polish American Congress, Tatra of Luzerne County and a member of the Luzerne County Fall Fair Association. Jablowski is also a trustee for the Luzerne County Young Democrats and a Committeeperson for Hanover Township's Ward 2-2.

A graduate of Penn State University, he holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science and serves on the Board of Directors of the Penn State Wilkes-Barre Campus Alumni Association. Jablowski most recently served as a Congressional Assistant with local Congressman Paul E. Kanjorski. Prior to his work with Kanjorski, he served as District Director/Legislative Assistant to former Pennsylvania House Majority Policy Chairman Representative David R. Wright.
