Matthew James Madonna dedicated on Easter Sunday

Matthew James Madonna, 2 month old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Madonna of Kunkle was dedicated on Easter Sunday, April 15, at the Emmanuel Assembly of God Church, Harveys Lake by the Rev. Lawrence Reed.

Vocal solos were offered by the baby's grandfather who sang "Jewels" and by Denise Gordon, "Love Grew Where the Blood Fell" and by Carolyn Reed, "Talk to the Father".

Matthews mother is the former Holly Barber.

He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Barber, Harveys Lake and Mrs. Cahres Madonna of Levittown, Pa. and Mrs. Mildred Kelly of Harveys Lake.

The great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lee Barber, Evans Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Conden of Dallas.

Volunteer family

The Gary Williams family, Shavertown, was among volunteers honored recently by the Meadows Nursing Center, Dallas, as part of National Volunteer Recognition Week.

Throughout the year over 130 adult and teen volunteers generously shared over 13,000 hours of their time to benefit residents at the Center.

Mr. Williams, his wife Fran, and children, Chad and Erin, shown above, volunteer weekly as friendly visitors. They have been Meadows volunteers since February, 1987.

Frank Zeske is associate at city architectural firm

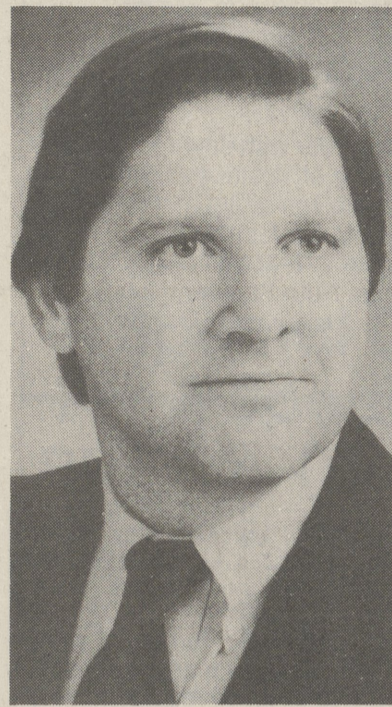

The Board of Directors of Smith, Miller and Associates, Inc. recently promoted Frank S. Zeske to the position of Associate.

In announcing the promotion, Mr. Donald D. Smith, President of the Architectural-Engineering-Surveying Firm stated that it is a reflection of Mr. Zeske's increased responsibilities including those of Project Manager for several important clients.

Among those responsibilities, Mr. Zeske is in charge of the design of the infrastructure improvements for Highland Park - a planned 100 acre office/business complex of the Greater Wilkes-Barre Partnership, Inc.

Mr. Zeske is involved in several projects for water treatment, storage and distribution for such clients as the Montgomery Water and Sewer Authority and the Dallas and Shavertown Water Authorities. A State-Certified Wastewater Treatment Plant Operator and a Sewage Enforcement Officer, Mr. Zeske has also designed sewage collection and treatment systems including those for sludge management.

He was graduated from Wilkes University in 1985 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Environmental Engineering. He is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers and the Water Pollution Control Federal. Before joining SMA, Mr. Zeske was employed by engineering firms in Boston and Washington, D.C. He resides with his wife Carole in Dallas.

FRANK ZESKE

Wyoming Valley Habitat moves closer to affiliation

Wyoming Valley Habitat for Humanity has recently received authorization from Habitat for Humanity International, Americus, Georgia, to begin using that organization's name. The local ecumenical group of lay and clergy is in the process of incorporation as an affiliate of Habitat for Humanity.

Wyoming Valley Habitat for Humanity is a grass-roots organization concerned with the lack of decent, affordable housing in the Wyoming Valley. The group plans to bring together individuals and groups who are interested in working together to build or renovate housing for ownership by poor families. Habitat seeks to provide a long-term solution to a real and local problem.

The planning group meets the first Thursday of each month and invites anyone interested to join in this exciting approach to dealing with Wyoming Valley's need for decent, affordable housing.

The next meeting is scheduled for May 3 at 7:30 p.m. at the Trucksville United Methodist Church.

Community invited to take part in fire company fair

Sweet Valley Fire Company Ladies Auxiliary is asking for community support for the Fair on May 25, 26 and 28. Please bring items for the White Elephant stand to the house next to the firehall, no clothing please. Baked goods would be appreciated from everyone within the fire company coverage area. Please bring your goodies to the Fairgrounds one of the three days of the fair.

Sweet Valley Fire Company Ladies Auxiliary will serve food during the Primary Election on May 15.

Lake-Lehman board okays $3 million renovation project

By CHARLOT M. DENMON
Staff Writer

The Lake-Lehman School Directors approved floating $3,280,000 in general obligation bonds to raise money to renovate and improve the Lake-Lehman Senior High School at its regular meeting last Tuesday. Kenneth Williams was the only director to vote against the motion.

The directors also approved contracts with low bidders as follows: Interco Construction $2,044,500, general construction; J.L. Turner Co., $213,977, plumbing; Bogner Inc. $355,865, Heating & Ventilation; Rogan Electric $314,446 electrical.

The construction, which is to begin this spring, will include space for five classrooms, expansion of the physical education and music departments, a media center and language arts room and various other improvements and renovations.

The directors also approved unanimously that high school student council representatives' reports be added to the regular meetings agenda.

Scott Schaffer and Edward Radzinski were appointed assistant junior high track coaches at $1,357 each for the 1989-90 school year. Nathan Jacoby was appointed a volunteer junior high track coach. Anthony J. Lkeynowski a volunteer girls soccer coach; Charles James and Stanley Scott as volunteer boys volleyball coaches.

The directors congratulated students who were named to the winter All-Stars including Rob Wilson, Glenn Nilsson, Michael Strutko, basketball; Wendy Skibitsky, Alyson Davis, Jennifer Smith and Andrea Mazur, girls basketball; Charles Jacoby, David Konopke, Michael Guerin, Raymond Rosencrans, Joseph J. Konigus, wrestling, Phil Lipski and Thomas Williams were congratulated for being named coaches of the year in wrestling.

The band's indoor color guard was also congratulated for taking three first places in competition at Salisbury High School, Northampton High School and Southern Lehigh High School.

Nineteen industrial arts students were congratulated for placing in seven events in the Pennsylvania State Student Association competition. Winners were Charles Hartz, computer aided drafting/design, first; Charles Hartz, dream house, first; Michael Sholtis, dream house, second; Robert Neyhard, photography, third; Maggie Manzoni, Jessica Hospodar, Christian Neal, Brian Kern, Todd Adams, David Korbeil, Richard DeRemer, chapter team, third; James Martin, manufacturing prototype, third; John Cool, Brian Flyte, Charles Hartz, R.C. Transport, second; Maggie Manzoni, Jessica Hospodar, record book, second.

During the visitors section Barbara Gold of Hunlock Creek told Dr. Borchetta that she understood during a meeting with the bus drivers, a decision was made to organize a committee including bus coordinator, bus drivers and bus contractors but no parents represented.

"I don't understand how bus discipline can be effective without the participation of parents. I would like to know why there are no parents on the committee," she said.

Dr. Borchetta told her he thought the committee was adequate as it was organized but asked if she wanted to join the committee. Gold said she did and Borchetta said he would consider it.

President of the board Jeff Fritzen said that a budget meeting would be held Thursday, April 26, in the library of the Lehman-Jackson Elementary Building at 7:30 p.m.

The regular meeting of the board will be Tuesday, May 8, at Ross Elementary, 8 p.m., in the multipurpose room.
