Yezilski wins design award

Christine Yezilski of Dallas, has won a $250 award from Aberdeen & Dunbar, a Philadelphia design firm, for her original women's sportswear design. The presentation took place during the Student Design and Fashion Show, held recently at Philadelphia College of Textiles and Science. Yezilski is a sophomore majoring in fashion design at PCT&S.

The fashion show, "Innovations," featured more than 150 student-designed fashions, plus the premiere showing of the fall collection of Joan Vass, U.S.A.

PCT&S is an independent, four-year institution offering bachelor of science and master's degrees in 20 majors encompassing programs in textiles, business, fashion, design and science. Founded in 1884, the College is located in the East Falls section of Philadelphia.

Two graduate from LCCC design program

A graduation ceremony for members of the non-credit Interior Design program at Luzerne County Community College was held recently for students who have completed the college's one-year program.

The Interior Design program at LCCC, offered through the community college's Continuing Education Division, consists of two 10-week semesters of training at the LCCC Educational Conference Center. In addition to classroom studies, students also participate in field trips to locations important to the design field within the local area, as well as an educational bus trip to explore design in New York City and Philadelphia.

The practical, hands-on course in design provides the theoretical foundations and elements of design while emphasizing and focusing on practical application.

The academic portion of the program is taught by Anne Pospack, a practicing interior designer, who brings to the class design fundamentals fixed in a practical framework. Dr. Joanna Robins, an accomplished artist and educator, brings to the class creativity and self-expression.

Among the graduates were Wendy Bolton and Janet Carey of Dallas.

Wetlands Assembly at Dallas Middle School

Recently the sixth and seventh grades at the Dallas Middle School were presented a program on wetlands by Mr. William Evans of the local Audubon Society. The theme of the program was the impact of wetlands on the environment. The important role of various animals, plants and insects were shown in a slide presentation. Mr. Evans pointed out the delicate balance that exists between man and the wetland areas. One of the major factors in the destruction of the balance is the garbage problem which is on the increase. The program concluded with a question and answer period, and final challenge to the students - "To continue to enjoy wetlands people must be willing to work with dedication to wetland maintenance." Pictured from left, Mr. Francis Kopko, Carrie Fetterman, Mr. William Evans, Mrs. Anne Seitz and Michael Murphy.

Stephen J. Wert graduates from college

Stephen J. Wert graduated recently from Wesley College, Dover, Delaware, with a B.S. degree in Business Administration. He had previously earned an Associate Degree in communications from the same college.

Stephen is the son of Rev. and Mrs. James A. Wert, Shavertown. He is currently employed as Assistant Manager of Arby's Restaurant, King of Prussia.

Tony Nadzan to attend Cornell

Tony Nadzan of Dallas High School will attend Cornell University in the fall, according to the announcement made recently by Jim Hoffer, head football coach of the Big Red.

Nadzan, a 6-1, 235-pounder, is a lineman who was twice a league all-star at Dallas High.

Nadzan will enroll in the College of Arts and Sciences at Cornell.

Rothrock named to honor society

Dawn Rothrock, a senior at Wittenberg University has been elected a member of the Wittenberg College Honor Society, inducted in recognition of achievement in the liberal arts curriculum.

Organized in 1968, the College Honor Society honors students whose achievements are comparable to the requirements of Phi Beta Kappa, national collegiate honorary in letters, arts and science. The society is comprised of faculty and administrative staff who are members of Phi Beta Kappa.

Rothrock, a mathematics major, is the daughter of The Rev. Lynn and Valeria Rothrock of 95 Mt. Airy Rd., Shavertown.

Jason Project

These 8th grade students are members of Ms. Kathryn Gregory Science Class, who participated in the Jason Project. The Jason Project is sponsored by Lehigh University and Dr. Robert Ballard, a Marine geologist at Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution who discovered the wreck of the RMS Titanic in 1985. Ms. Gregory's class traveled to Lehigh University on May 2, to participate in a live exploration via satellite by Jason, a remotely operated vehicle, of two sunken vessels from the War of 1812. The "Hamilton" and "Scourage", two armed merchant schooners, capsized in a squall in the early hours of August 8, 1813, and sank in 300 ft. of water in Lake Ontario. Because of the near freezing temperatures and fresh water environment of the Lake, the ships and their contents are well-preserved and are considered archaeological treasures.

Jason will explore the two ships using remote TV cameras, and beam the images to a satellite which will then be viewed by Ms. Gregory's class at Lehigh University. While Dr. Ballard and his crew explores the two ships, Ms. Gregory's class experienced "being there."
