Photographs by Dr. Mort Slavin at MacDonald

The photographs of Dr. Mort Slavin of Harveys Lake, will be the featured exhibit in The MacDonald Art Gallery at College Misericordia, July 8 through August 5.

The show, entitled "Shades of Grey" is a selection of 55 photographs, color and black and white, which offer the viewer a variety of figurative, landscape and abstract images and tend to provoke and taunt one's imagination, according to Brian Benedetti, director of the Art Gallery.

"Subject matter and images are captured in rich compositional arrangements in Slavin's photographs, each making a unique aesthetic statement," said Benedetti.

"Having first experienced Slavin's works in this home on an informal level, I was intrigued by their diversity and variety. Each photograph held a strong interplay of lines, shapes, value and texture, cultivating the actual essence of the subject matter being depicted."

Slavin's subject matter is no different than the subject matter that has been photographed many times before. However, he describes each photograph as being a moment in time. "The circumstances of the moment can never be the same," says Slavin. "The creative vision and interpretation of the moment can be accomplished both through the lens and in the darkroom. It is an ongoing discovery, exciting and unique."

Slavin relates his selection of photographs for this show to that of those personalities he would consider inviting to a party. "I believe the photographs I decided to show (as if by invitation) have character and integrity. Some reflect a quiet beauty, and some exhibit a wit, a sense of humor. Included are those that have an air of mystery; they are abstractions. Mix in some people images—some believable, some not. And to balance out the list, add a dash of still lifes," he said.

Dr. Slavin, now retired from his dentistry/oral surgery practice, holds degrees from the University of North Carolina, University of Pennsylvania and Columbia University. His interest in photography began in 1941 when he served overseas in World War II-taking with him a camera given to him by one of his patients. There he began what would be a long-term commitment to an interest in meaningful, artistic photography.

Looking for that unique reflection of his own point of view and tastes, Slavin strives for shots of subject matter and images taken from different vantage points. By invitation, his work has been shown at national photographic workshops in Soho, NY.

ON EXHIBIT AT MACDONALD GALLERY - Shown is "Shades of Grey" Santa Fe, 1989 by Mort Slavin. The work is on exhibit through August 5.
