Crispell reunion set for Saturday

The 77th Annual Crispell Family Reunion (Pennsylvania Branch) will be held at Dymond Grove, Noxen, Saturday, August 11, at noon. Families are asked to bring place settings, meat and beverage for themselves, and a dish for the buffet table. There will be prizes and games for the children.

The Crispells are descendants of Antoine (Crespel) Crispell, who came to this country in 1660 and along with 11 other patentees, founded the village of New Paltz, New York, near here. Antoine Crispell married Maria Blanchan on January 31, 1660, before migrating to the Dutch Colony at New Paltz, and the local family is descended from this line. Maria Blanchan died in 1679, and Antoine Crispell married Petronella DuMond. It is from this second marriage that the Roosevelt Family descended, giving a common ancestor to the local Crispell family and to Presidents of the United States and a famous First Lady. Around 1825 Thomas Crispell and his wife settled in the Noxen-Beaumont area, and it is the descendants of this couple who gather for annual reunion.

The original stone houses of the early settlement are still standing in New Paltz, and the Crispell family, in cooperation with the Huguenot Society, built a replica of the original church in 1972 in memory of Antoine Crispell.
