Harveys celebrate silver anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Harvey of 383 Ransom Road, East Dallas, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on August 27.

Mrs. Harvey is the former Linda George, daughter of John George and the late Elizabeth Clark George of Dallas. They operated the Hoagie Bar for 22 years.

Mr. Harvey is the son of Helen Chebro Harvey and the late Christopher Harvey of Hanover section of Nanticoke. He is employed by Native Textiles as superintendent of maintenance and shipping.

The Harveys have two daughters, Christine a student at College Misericordia, and Randi Anne, a student at Keystone Junior College.

In honor of the occasion the couple will celebrate with a trip to Florida in September.

Dallas Twp. may fine for false alarms

By CHARLOT M. DENMON Staff Writer

An attempt to levy fines on persons whose burglar alarms sound needlessly failed at the August 21 Dallas Township meetin.

Dallas Township supervisor Frank Wagner's motion to approve an amendment to the municipality's existing false alarm ordinance to impose fines on persons who have called in more than three false alarms was postponed until the board could discuss it in more detail.

Wagner called for the motion because he stated that there were at least 17 false alarms called in to the supervisors from a local home security agency during the last month.

"Even when there is a malfunction in a home alarm security system, the agency still calls the police," Wagner said.

The Dallas Township Planning Commission met following the supervisors meeting to discuss proposed subdivisions in the township. The commission approved plans from the owner of Goodleigh Farms to sell a lot to Rick Allen.

The Township's zoning board granted a variance to William H. Smith. Smith told the board he plans to build a home on his property on Ferguson Street and Route 309 and submitted a petition of a 10-foot variance on one side of the proposed home.

Following a discussion between the board and Smith, the variance was granted.
