Student group seeks hosts

Open your hearts to some rewarding international enjoyment during the upcoming winter months. Intercambio Internacional de Estudiantes is based on a 35-year tradition started by Abbot Placid Reitmeier. Originally a small group exchange between the children of his area in Mexico and families he knew in the U.S. and Canada, today it has grown into a strong international organization that promotes peace and understanding between North and Central America.

You can become part of the Intercambio experience by hosting a child from Central America age 13-16 for eight weeks in the winter. The first group from El Salvador and Guatemala arrives November 10; the second group from Costa Rica arrives December 8. Every child has health insurance and their own spending money, and attends school with their host brother or sister. All that you need share is your home, your table, and, most of all, your love.

For more information (and no obligation), please call Barbara Kocher at 477-3591 or 1-800-437-4170. It would be a winter you will never forget.
