Mounts hang tough before loss to Hanover

By CHARLOT M. DENMON

Hanover's 21-13 win over the Dallas Mountaineers wasn't as easy as many people expected. Hawkeye coach Al Kopacz said that the game was the toughest Hanover had played all season.

Dallas Coach Ted Jackson agreed that the game was a tough one. "Our kids played well in the second half," said Jackson. "They made some fundamental mistakes in the first half and we beat ourselves. In the second half the kids played hard, well enough to win. Hanover is a big team and they're tough."

"I'm proud of them, they never gave up. They didn't win but Hanover didn't run away with them either," Jackson said.

It looked as though the Hawkeyes would run away with the game in the opening quarter when they intercepted Dallas quarterback John Morris' pass on the Mountaineers first drive and Kevin Proctor went 48 yards two plays later for a touchdown. The kick was good and the Hawkeyes took a 7-0 lead.

In the second quarter Hanover scored a second touchdown to go ahead 14-0.

Dallas looked like a different team when they came out in the second half. Their attitude showed their determination to stop the Hawkeyes and they did.

In the opening play Hanover fumbled and Dallas recovered but the Mountaineers were unable to score and had to punt. Again Hanover fumbled and Mountaineer Jeremiah VanOrden took the ball into the endzone for a touchdown for the Mountaineers. Chris Williams kicked the extra point and the score was 14-7.

Eric Paczewski intercepted Quarterback Eric Pearson's pass on Hanover's next possession and on the next play John Morris hit VanOrden for a 17-yard touchdown pass. Williams' kick was blocked and the score was 14-13.

The Hawkeyes defense stopped the Mountaineers on drives in the fourth period but Hanover scored their final touchdown with less than five minutes remaining in the game. Jamie Proctor's kick was good.

The game ended 21-13 when Dennis Monk intercepted Morris' pass on the final drive of the game.

Mounts, Knights to meet in playoff Dallas stomps Prep 6-1

The Dallas Mountaineers jumped out to an early lead Monday over Scranton Prep when Ned Palka scored a goal unassisted at 18:33 in the first quarter. Then Eric Ursiak gave the Mountaineers all the points they needed when he scored a goal off an assist by Pat Morris at 17:35 in the second quarter and again with an assist by Andy Flint before the half ended.

The Mountaineers added three insurance goals in the second half on scores by Brian Fett, Pat Morris and Eric Lehman, all unassisted.

The lone goal scored by Scranton Prep was Rob Watkins unassisted in the second quarter.

The win advances Dallas to the second round of playoffs against Lake-Lehman who defeated Seton Catholic 3-1 Monday on their home field. The game will be played today (Wednesday) at 6 p.m. in the Wyoming Valley West Stadium.

The Black Knights scored two goals in the first quarter to take a 2-0 lead over Seton Catholic on the Knights' home field and went on to defeat the Eagles 3-1 in soccer playoff action Monday.

The win advances the Knights to the semifinal today against Dallas, who defeated Scranton Prep 6-1 Monday afternoon.

Tim Norconk scored the first goal off an assist by Jason McDade and 10 minutes later McDade scored with an assist by Brian Kelly. In the second quarter, Eric Stogoski stole the ball from Seton Catholic and passed to Kelly who scored off Stogoski's assist.

Seton's John Allardyce scored the only goal for the Eagles.

Knight Coach Paul Reinert gave credit to his Knights strong defense for their win over the Eagles.

Dallas takes conference championship

Going into last week's Wyoming Valley Conference Championship game Dallas coaches, players and fans had to have memories of the championship game of a year before in the back of their minds.

Last year the Mountaineers dropped the championship game, but this year the Mountaineers came out strong and battled to a 3-2 win over Wyoming Seminary to capture the championship.

Eric Ursiak scored the first goal for the Dallas soccer team unassisted only 3:20 into the game at the Dallas field.

It was on the same field where last season the Mountaineers lost in an overtime match. This year the Mounts were determined to pick up a win on their home field remembering their coach's statement that "You never lose on your home field."

Pat Morris gave his team a 2-0 lead at 9:15 of the first period when he scored on an assist from Matt Sleightholm's kick.

Both teams played midfield for most of the game but Dallas took control and the Blue Knights were stymied because their entire game plan keys around the midfield while Dallas's doesn't.

The Mountaineers appeared to drop off some in the second period and the Blue Knights took advantage of the opportunity as Dave Bonita scored unassisted to make the score 2-1.

The Mountaineers took back control in the third period and held off the Blue Knights. Ursiak, in the final minute of the third period, took control of the ball after Ted Palka missed a header and put in a 20 yard grounder for a third goal for the Mountaineers.

With only 1:25 in the game remaining, Seminary's Willie Kozicki scored on a penalty kick but the Mountaineers defense killed the time left on the clock and celebrated a great victory.

The win advanced Dallas to Monday's game with Scranton Prep.

Dietterick

this month Dietterick was found guilty on all 19 charges of fraud and forgery.

Following the conviction, Dietterick tried to have his name taken off the election ballot but a state court ruled that it was too late to have the name removed.

Some GOP leaders feel that there are many scenarios which could occur if Dietterick is re-elected. They include:

•Dietterick is elected and the House of Representatives votes to allow him to serve.

•Dietterick wins his appeal in court and is allowed to serve.

•Dietterick is re-elected and the House of Representatives votes to not allow him to serve, in which case a special election could be called. Other observers believe that such an outcome would mean no representation for the district, since the Democrat-controlled House would be reluctant to call a special election in the heavily Republican district.

Either way, GOP leaders feel that strong voter turnout will help Dietterick win the election. "If everyone come out to vote we'll be in good shape," said Reese.

Malonis picks eight of ten, and wins football contest

Chris Malonis of Dallas correctly picked eight of the ten games in the weekly football contest and that was good enough for the win.

Malonis was perfect in the Pro section of the contest and that helped him garner the weekly prize of two pizzas from Treat Pizza in Dallas.

It was a very close competition as many contestants were close behind Malonis. However, Malonis excelled in the Pro section, picking all four of the games correctly and going on to the win.

There weren't a lot of upset in this week's competition and many contestants picked more correctly than not.

Games in this week's contest may be just as exciting and fun to predict. Anyone can enter, and the one to pick the most games correctly will enjoy two pizzas from Pizza Perfect in Trucksville.

Make sure you fill out the entry form on below and cheer on your teams.

FOOTBALL CONTEST

Win two large pizzas from Pizza Perfect

Rules for the football contest

- 1) Each week in The Dallas Post a football contest entry form will be published.
- 2) Contestants must circle the team which they think will win in the respective games. If a game ends in a tie that game will not be considered in the contest.
- 3) All entries must have a winner circled in each of the 10 games on the form.
- 4) The contestant picking the most games correctly will win two free pizzas from Pizza Perfect in Trucksville. In case of a tie in the contest, the tiebreaker will be used. In the tie breaker each contestant must pick the total number of points scored by both teams in the designated game. (i.e. If the score of a game was 21-17 the total number of points in the game was 38.) The contestant coming closest to the exact number of points will win the tiebreaker. In the event there is still a tie in the contest, one of the remaining entries will be drawn at random to decide the winner.
- 5) Only one entry per person each week allowed.
- 6) All entries must be postmarked or received by the newspaper by 5:00 p.m. on the date designated. Entries can be mailed to The Dallas Post, Box 366, Dallas, PA 18612 or they can be dropped off at the office located in the 309-415 Plaza.
- 7) All winners will be notified by The Post and their names will be published the following week's paper.
