panies in the budget.

The Kingston Township Ambulance Association will also get more money from the township next year. The budget calls for an increase of $4,500 for the association.

Box said that the increases to the emergency companies will only help provide better service for the area. "The budget is a fair representation of the overall needs of the township and it helps provide a level of service that is equal to or better than any other municipality in the county," said Box.

Other large increases in the budget will go to the highway department and the costs of insur-
