Lake-Lehman Senior High honor roll

Penn State Homecoming was a success

Alumni and friends of the Penn State Wilkes-Barre campus came together during Homecoming held recently at the campus. The day was filled with activities for both adults and children. A tailgate dinner, old-fashioned hay ride given by Bill Sorber of Lehman, a karate demonstration for children and a Halloween parade were all a part of the fun. The Sobeck family of Harveys Lake participated in Halloween arts and crafts. From left, Richard, Mark '76; Debbie, Michael and Carl Borton son of Chris Borton, '78, Forty Fort.

Recycling discussion held at College Misericordia

Back Mountain area citizens recently attended a recycling seminar at College Misericordia, to have their questions about recycling answered by local experts. The Back Mountain Citizens Council, Penn State Wilkes-Barre, and Misericordia sponsored the seminar, titled "Almost Everything You Want to Know About Recycling." Panelists included Alan Snelson, resource recovery/planning coordinator; Frank Chadwick, Luzerne County recycling coordinator; Rick Allan, manager, Allan Industries; and Tom Bagley, manager, Dallas Area Municipal Authority. Alan Snelson, standing, is seen addressing the audience in Misericordia's Merrick Hall cafeteria.

Lehman stresses parent-teacher cooperation

Three distinctly different activities engaged in by parents and teachers of ESEA students at Lake-Lehman School during the fall semester highlight the need for, and importance of, parent-teacher interaction.

In mid October, three parents, Maryann Hardisky, Sharon Maher, Sharon Norconk and staff member Ms. Patricia Peiffer, attended a Parent Awareness Training Conference at Mount Airy Lodge. Various presentations were given. They all dealt with the necessity and importance of parent-teacher involvement and cooperation.

Secondly, on November 9, ECIA classes were cancelled and a parent visitation day was conducted. Both group and individual test results were explained to parents by staff members. Student work was reviewed and cooperative strategies were agreed upon.

Finally, during "American Education Week" the ESEA staff along with other staff members took part in the traditional "open house". The ESEA Parent Advisory Council had an information table in the lobby of the Lehman-Jackson Elementary School and the Lake-Noxen Elementary School. Children who brought their parents to the table received a prize. All district buildings were bulging with visitors on their appointed open house night. A visit to a classroom, a quick inspection of their child's work, a brief visit with their child's teacher.
