Sue Hand's newest work on display

Pine Brook Inn, Lower Demunds Road, Dallas, announces the exhibition of several of the most recent paintings by nationally recognized artist Sue Hand. Part of a series of "Sunlight" paintings,

Hand created these artworks by literally pouring color onto the paper. This complex procedure of masking, pouring and spattering produce an ethereal effect seemingly filled with light.

Hand, a nationally recognized artist, works mostly in watercolor, casein, and ink. Working with light and shadow, she recently won two more international awards for her art work, one in competition in Washington, D.C. and one in Clearwater, Florida.

In addition to the creation of the "Sunlight" series, paintings, Hand recently wrote and published her first book, A Dog Named Jamie. It was produced entirely in chancery cursive calligraphy and includes 129 ink drawn illustrations. It is also available through Pine Brook Inn.

The Sunlight Series will be on exhibit through the holidays at the Pine Brook, during regular business hours or by appointment.

For more information, call 675-3550.

Play set for December 22

The final performance of "The Greatest Gift", will be held at the Sweet Valley Church of Christ, Saturday, Dec. 22, at 7 p.m. The musical-drama is being presented by the adult choir, under the direction of Cindy Evans.

The play tells of a three-generation family who discovers what it really means to receive "the greatest gift". In addition to the adult choir, a special children's choir, which has been assembled especially for this play, will also perform that evening.

If the hustle and the bustle of this holiday season is getting to you, come and be refreshed by the message you'll receive. The Church of Christ is located on Main Road, Sweet Valley, approximately one and a half miles from Sheldon's Diner.
