Driver Program presented with new vehicle

A comprehensive curriculum of safety education continues in the Lake-Lehman School District under the direction of Walter J. Buda. The program includes classroom instruction to all 10th grade students, and behind-the-wheel training for 11th and 12th grade students. Students are taught basic concepts of automotive engineering, science and the natural laws as they relate to the safe handling of a motor vehicle, and essential attitudes conducive to safe driving. Emphasis is placed on responsible behavior behind the wheel, as passengers, and as pedestrians.

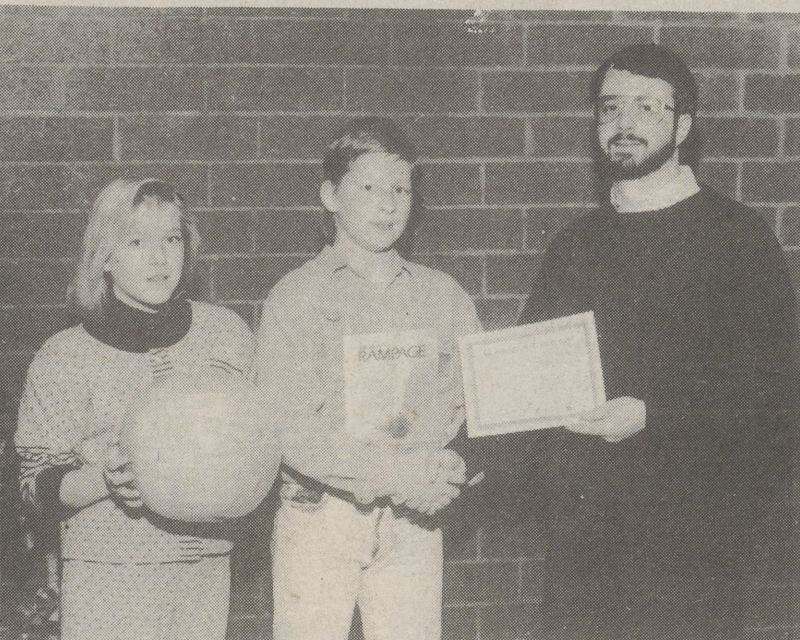

Students are encouraged to participate in class discussions of news articles related to safety. Students bring articles to class to share with classmates, for all to analyze the essential lessons of safety to be learned from local mishaps and safety related news articles. Automobile City and the Nissan Corporation are strong supporters of the safety curriculum at Lake-Lehman. Fred Schuler, Inc., has encouraged this outstanding driver education program and supplied the vehicle for behind the wheel instruction since 1980.

Dallas classes make yellow ribbons

Dallas Middle School Home Economics classes combined history and home economics when they made yellow ribbons to express their concern for the safety of United States service people in the Middle East. As the students sewed a ribbon to wear, they learned that the custom is quite old. Yellow ribbons were worn by families wishing for the safe return of soldiers during the Civil War, and later during the Indian uprisings. More recently the wife of an American held hostage in Iran started a campaign of tying yellow ribbons around trees to signify American concern for the captives. Several students who made ribbons are featured from left, Jason Nutche, Jacqui Prothero, Valerie Taylor, Kevin Williams, Joseph Dreier, Mrs. Lavada Riggins, Project Coordinator; Marina Knappman, Lisa Gurdin, Brian Pizzano and Michael Miller.
