It's a new experience for Dallas volleyball coach and his players

The Dallas Mountaineers volleyball team enters the season with a rookie coach and mostly first-time players. But despite fielding only one returning player from last season, the Mounts won their opening match Friday against Nanticoke, 15-3, 15-10.

Junior Mark Lamoreaux, setter, played an excellent game for the young Mountaineers. The team also played a great defensive game.

The Mounts are playing under a new coach this season, David Jones, a member of the Dallas faculty.

"We have no seniors on the team this year," said coach Jones. "Ned Palka is the only player returning from last year. Seven others were lost through graduation.

"We have eight juniors and seven sophomores on this year's roster and most of them have no experience with volleyball. For that matter neither do I," said Jones. "With the exception of picnic volleyball. We have a great group of boys though; they are enthusiastic and cooperative and have a great attitude. They are familiar with the team concept and are well disciplined. I don't know how many games we will win, but we will be competitive," Jones said.

Jones said he knew nothing about volleyball until he decided to apply for the coaching position so he went to some of the best to learn.

"I went to John Baranowski and John Rogers who have done such a great job at Lake-Lehman. They helped me a great deal. I also learned a lot from their former coach Donna Trebilcox. Now the boys and I are learning together and believe me, we are both learning a great deal."

The starters at present are Scott Bearley, Ned Palka, Mark Lamoreaux, Keith McDonald, Jeff Polachek and Dan Watchulonis. Palka, Bearley and McDonald are tri-captains of the team.

Jones said he believes the strongest teams in this year's Wyoming Valley Volleyball Conference are Lake-Lehman, North Pocono, Tunkhannock, and Wyoming.

His team members include juniors Bearley, Palka, Joe Hudak, Lamoreaux, McDonald, Polachek, Ramy Shelin, Geff Spear, Watchulonis, Brad Bryant, Dave Holdredge, Tony Massara, Shawn Miller, Ron Moses and Mike Niel.

"I'm pleased with what all the boys are doing," said Jones.

3 from gym enter body building meet

Three members of The Gym in Dallas will enter the 3rd Annual Natural Pocono Classic Body Building Championships, April 20 at the John S. Fine High School, Nanticoke.

Tess Hollitt, sister of Raye Hollitt, owner of The Gym, was encouraged by her sister Raye to work out and become physically fit. She has been working out since July and will enter the women's middleweight physique and strength competition. Tess is currently employed at The GYM as well as working out there.

Mark Senchak is also employed at The GYM. He is a graduate of Wyoming Valley West High School but now lives in Sweet Valley. When in school he was active in sports, playing football and also was a member of the wrestling team. Senchak will enter the lightweight physique competition for men.

The third entrant is Corey Kleinfelder, a member of The GYM, and an employee of the local water company. Corey has always been a weight lifter. He will enter the men's lightweight physique competition and the strength endurance class as well. This is the first time the three weight lifters have entered competition and hope to bring back trophies to the Back Mountain.

Dallas girls soccer scores shutout

Rain and a muddy area in front of the goal in the first half Monday gave the Lady Mountaineers a difficult time in their soccer game with Tunkhannock. But the Dallas girls fought through the mire to post a 4-0 shutout.

The Dallas girls were able to manage one goal late in the first half when Karen Wisniewski sent a left pass in front of the goal which Sue Richardson drove past the Tigers goalkeeper Tracy Harvey.

In the second half the teams switched goals and the Dallas girls used the firm end of the field to their advantage.

Sue Richardson made a corner kick that bounced to Amy Shelley who drove the ball in for a score. Megan Moran moved the score to 3-0 with a long shot past Harvey into the cage.

Moran also picked up an assist by knocking the ball to Patrice Shovlin who scored from 10 yards out.

Temple coaches help Lehman girls

Temple University head coach Bonnie Maureh and assistant coach Cheryl Travis recently instructed 40 players and coaches of the Lake-Lehman softball junior varsity high school team in a hitting clinic.

Maureh and Travis taught team members compact hitting, bunting and slap hitting. They also conducted drills and provided the instructional progression instrumental to building effective hitters.

Coach Maureh has been head coach at Temple for 15 seasons and will attain her 300th win this season. A graduate of East Stroudsburg, she was named to the university's Hall of Fame in 1986. In 1989 she was the Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year. Maureh is a pioneer in women's fast pitch softball having played professionally and gaining All-American status.

Travis is a 1979 graduate of Lake-Lehman where she was an All-Scholastic shortstop. She also played softball for four years at Susquehanna University where she received a bachelor's degree in psychology. She then coached at Lake-Lehman for five years during which time the Lady Knights won two district titles. She is presently pursuing her doctorate in sports psychology and is in her second year as assistant coach at the university.

While in the area, the two Division 1 coaches conducted a coach's clinic for Back Mountain Little League Softball coaches the day before the high school clinic at the Dallas American Legion. They discussed techniques, styles of offensive and defensive skills in addition to pitching fundamentals. Approximately 25 coaches attended the clinic.
