Citizens' Council sponsors home beautification award

The Back Mountain Citizens Council has announced its First Annual Home Beautification Award and is seeking nominations from residents, who during the past five years have completed projects that have improved their properties. The work can include restoration of residences, patios and other buildings, new landscaping, small additions to existing buildings, and other site improvements. New construction will not be considered.

"Members of the Back Mountain Citizens Council during the past months have been impressed with some of the homes in the Back Mountain area which have been renovated, painted or re-sided and made exceptionally beautiful," said Nancy Eckert, Council President. "This gave us the idea to have a Home Beautification Program to inspire other residents to improve their existing properties rather than the development of new lands.

"Some of the older homes have been renovated and painted in beautiful colors, such as Dr. Boonin's building on Main Street, Dallas. It's amazing what a few coats of paint or some creative landscaping can do," Eckert said.

Residents are urged to submit their own properties or those of friends or neighbors who have beautified existing properties. A copy of the nomination form appears below for the convenience of those persons who wish to submit a nomination or may be obtained by contacting a board member of the Back Mountain Citizens Council.

Qualifications for nominations include:

1. A residential exterior restoration, a renovation project, or a site improvement located in any of the nine municipalities of the Back Mountain: Dallas and Harveys Lake Borough; Dallas, Franklin, Jackson, Kingston, Lake, Lehman and Ross townships.
2. Projects must have been completed within the past five years.
3. Submission of before and after photographs are desirable.
4. New addition projects will be considered if the area of the addition is less than 25% of the existing building and the original structure has been renovated.

Deadline for entries will be August 24, 1991. Judging will be done by a panel of professionals selected by the Back Mountain Citizens Council and site visits, photographs and literature will be used by them to select the winners. The Back Mountain Citizens Council and its judges reserve the right to withhold awards when aesthetic standards are not met.

Commendations for the year will be published in a special Fall Home Improvement section of The Dallas Post with articles giving photographic and written descriptions of the projects selected.

chief of police. He is also a member of the Luzerne County Chiefs of Police Association.

"When we arrive at the scene we do two things," he said. "I meet with the local law enforcement agency and find out what they want us to do. At that point Jim steps in and determines the best way for the job to be done."

"So basically, I handle things on shore while he takes charge of the divers and it works out real well," he added.

Johnson, who is rated a master diver, underwater recovery specialist and is the chief diver of the sheriff's department, gives a lot of credit to the divers on the team.

"We have men who are totally committed to this," said Johnson. "These guys volunteer their time and that includes taking training and responding to calls."

The divers are all highly trained and certified, according to Johnson. Some members of the team recently completed an international dive rescue program at Harveys Lake. Specialists from the International Association of Dive Rescue came in from Colorado to teach the class.

"Our divers are very proficient," said Zeglin. "They spend a lot of time and money making sure they are trained and ready to go."

Besides expert divers, the team is also equipped with modern technology to help with investigations. Some of the newest equipment includes underwater communication devices and special drag equipment.

"We have the men and equipment to provide a very special service," said Zeglin. "We especially have the will to do the best job possible. If our divers have to go into a cess-pool for an investigation, then we will."

Johnson said that this type of team is unique on the county level and the two men are proud to be heading the squad. "You will find this in larger cities where there are more law enforcement personnel available, but this is new to most counties," Johnson said.
