African art on display at MacDonald Gallery

The vivid African paintings and sculpture of New York artist Victor Mullen have opened the summer season at the MacDonald Art Gallery at College Misericordia. In this colorful exhibition, entitled "Paintings and Walking Sticks," Mullen combines the African symbolism of stability, strength, and ceremonial objects of the Zulu Nation. The pieces are a mixed media series of Zulu shields, witchdoctors, masks and walking sticks made of wood, barbed wire and other materials. Mullen, a graduate of Coughlin High School, currently works in the northern Catskills, New York. His exhibition runs until June 23. Seen during the recent opening reception for the artist are, from left, Kevin McDonald, Lauren McDonald, Helen McDonald, Victor Mullen, artist; Barbara Lawry Mullen and Betty McDonald.

Adopt--pet

Fishy is a beautiful orange, domestic long hair cat, seeking a home where someone will give him a lot of attention. A six-month old male, Fishy is house-broken and has had his shots. Since June is 'Adopt A Cat Month', he is hoping someone will stop in at the Luzerne County SPCA and take him home. He is well-behaved and needs very little care. He wants only someone to like him and give him a good home. Stop in weekdays 11-3 or 5-7 p.m., or weekends 11-3 and visit Fishy. You won't go home without him.
