Familiar faces at Odds's 'n' Ends booth

Visitors at the Back Mountain Library Auction each year make one of their first stops the Odds 'N' Ends Booth where they expect to see their friends Sybil Pelton, Mary George and Jean Grimes, who have staffed the booth for years.

popular with the auction-goers. You never know what items will be the boxes of items up to the tent. They also help set up the display as well.

"Each year different items are

"I haven't been as active in the auction for as many years as Sybil and Mary," said Jean Grimes. "But since they convinced me to help I do enjoy it and I enjoy meeting the people."

Sybil Pelton and Mary George have been chairpersons of the booth for the last 10 years and have the work down to a well-organized system.

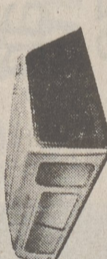

They begin collecting items as early as January, clean them, restore some and sort through jewelry to determine what is worth keeping and what is not. They send most of the jewelry to Marion Harvey, who makes minor repairs when necessary such as re-stringing and cleaning and polishing it until it look like new.

Sybil has been working with the booth since the Auction was held at the Risley Barn on Lehman Avenue, first as a staff member and later as chairperson. Later, Mary George, a member of the Women of Kiwanis, agreed to serve as co-chairperson with Sybil.

There is always a varied assortment of items at the booth and this year the chairperson say they have a wide assortment of almost new games. "The young people will love them, I'm sure," said Sybil.

Prior to the auction, the women come to the downstairs room in the library where the Odds 'N' Ends are stored, sort them, price them and pack them in boxes ready to be taken to the booth. When the tents arrive the Kiwanis Club men come

Rotary Club to again man food booth

The Dallas Rotary Club will be in charge of the food booth at the Library Auction for the third year.

Frank Schray and his fellow Rotarians, their wives, Coldwell Banking, and Ruth K. Smith's Century 21, will take turns staffing the booth, preparing the food and giving efficient service to the many hungry visitors.

Last year's menu of hamburgs, hot dogs, French fries, pizza, soda, tea, coffee, milk and other mouth-watering delicacies was so successful that the Rotarians decided to stick with their philosophy "The simpler the better" again this year, so auction-goers will find the same delicious filling food.

Our advice is "Go to the auction hungry—you will find the food great!"
