Quilters to display their cozy craft at Penn State on Oct. 12 and 13

Over 350 handmade quilts will be exhibited on Saturday, Oct. 12, and Sunday, Oct. 13, at Penn State University Wilkes-Barre Campus in Lehman. Sponsored by the Pennsylvania Quilters in honor of their 10th anniversary, the show will run from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. both days. The display will include full sized, newly made quilts, Victorian Wallhangings, baby quilts, and antique quilts. In addition, a Christmas room will feature quilted items displayed for the holidays.

A Merchant Mall featuring over 20 vendors will be selling the latest in quilting fabrics and supplies. Tickets will be on sale for a chance on a raffle quilt designed and quilted by members of the organization. The drawing for the quilt will be held at 5:30 on Sunday afternoon. Refreshments will be available throughout the show.

Special features during the showing include a free lecture on Christmas heirlooms given by guest lecturer, Gail Binney-Stiles, on Saturday, at 1 p.m. Ingrid Rogler will be conducting a free workshop at 10 a.m. on Saturday, on teaching children to quilt. Mrs. Rogler is the author of the recently published book, Small Folk Quilters. Information on other workshops being offered may be obtained by calling Clara Slembariski, Chairman of the Quilt Show, at 717-542-4574.

Kirby Center seeks student volunteers

The F.M. Kirby Center for the Performing Arts will introduce it's Junior Volunteer Program for the 1991-1992 season.

Students age 15 years or older, either in high school or college are invited to apply before October 11. To apply, call Mr. Joseph Moratori at The Kirby Center, 823-4599, Monday thru Friday. Applicants need only have the desire to complete a few hours per month of community service work at the Kirby.

Members of the Kirby's Junior Volunteer Program help with seating, ushering, guiding Senior Citizens to their seats, greeting theatre patrons, and distributing showbills.

Each Junior Volunteer will work alongside a member of the Adult

Volunteer Program, after completing one formal training class at the Kirby. "This program is great for our community because it gets our youth involved in the arts," said Kirby House Services Manager, Joe Moratori, to show how the center operates, to provide an opportunity for students to do valuable public service work and get involved with the arts in the youth, and to have fun doing it."
