Dallas will stage 'Spoon River Anthology'

Dallas High School is in the final stages of preparing for its fall play, "Spoon River Anthology."

The production, based on the poetry of Edgar Lee Masters, will be presented at 8 p.m. on November 26 and 27, the Tuesday and Wednesday before Thanksgiving.

It is a dramatic presentation combining folk music, song and dance with a variety of characters and vignettes, offering an entertaining array of roles for the students to develop and the audience to enjoy.

Both the serious and humorous aspects of life are presented through heart-warming ballads and the free verse form of Masters. Characters range from young lovers - to old lovers, preachers to teachers, and a town drunk whose dog treated him better than his wife.

The play is directed by Donald Hopkins, assisted Audrey Ide. Stage manager is Renee Egly assisted by Trina Huynh. Lead vocalist is Emily Russin and Judy Kirkendall on guitar and Kevin Burke on bass. Senior members of the cast include Kristen Gurdin, Heather Mead, Andrea Shone, and Emily Russin.

Begin your Thanksgiving with a little bit of Americana. Tickets are $2 at the door. Student tickets will be available for $1 in the High School.
