LADY MOUNTS LOSE SQUEAKER TO SETON

Saturday, Feb. 8, brought about a 37-35 tilt against Dallas girls' basketball team and Seton Catholic on the losers' court in Dallas. Kelly Janosky and Wendy Cave scored 13 and 12 points respectively. The Mounts will challenge West Side Tech Thursday, Feb. 13, at home.

On Monday, Feb. 3, the Dallas girls defeated Wyoming Seminary 42-39 at Kingston. Wendy Cave tossed in 16 and Kelly Janosky followed closely with 13, including one trey. Dallas had a hefty 30-16 lead at halftime, but Sem outscored them 11-1 in the third quarter to make it a game.

DALLAS GRAPPLERS PIN WEST SIDE TECH

Dallas wrestlers beat West Side Tech 71-3 at home on Saturday, Feb. 8. The Mounts had pins from Mike Heffron, 103; Harry Phillips, 112; Chris Geskey, 135; Frank Natitus, 140; Glenn Ellsworth 145; Ryan Finn, 152; Chris Updyke, 171; and Jamie Oley, 189. Other winners were Jeff Hozempa, Bob Jesse, Pat Corrigan and Sean Petraccini.

On Thursday, Feb. 6, the Dallas grapplers didn't fare as well as they were defeated by Nanticoke Area 53-8 at the winner's site. Glenn Ellsworth and Chris Updyke were the only winners for the Mountaineers. They will test Berwick, away on February 15.

sophomores on the Mount's team. Kelly Janosky, another sophomore, has never played basketball before. "Kelly far exceeds my expectations," commented Karuza. "She is now one of our starters and has hit double figures in some games. She's one of our best athletes."

Janosky was instrumental in keeping Dallas in the Lehman game with a three-point bucket early in the third quarter. "All of the kids who played gave us a good game," Karuza continued. "Wendy Cave had a good game and Alyssa Rosentel really surprised us." Rosentel had played relentlessly throughout the entire game. "Missy Pomrinke was another key player. They (referees) let us play and there was bumping going on, but Missy stayed right in there with a lot of effort," her coach applauded.

A happy Karuza also applauded the winners. "Joe Martini played man-to-man defense and his kids played it well." Karuza referred to the Lehman players getting into good position to stop the fast breaking Cave. "We also had some luck and the fact that Dyan Dymond was not in the game certainly was a key factor," Karuza reflected. Dyan is Lehman's point guard who was unavailable due to illness.

For Dallas this year, winning isn't everything, but experience and improvement is. For most of the players there is a next year and even a next year after that. However, for three starting seniors at Lake-Lehman, there is no tomorrow.

Dallas will play West Side Tech on Thursday, Feb. 13, at home.
