Sally Rogers will play the Chicory House March 27

If anyone could be called "America's favorite folksinger," it would certainly be Sally Rogers. A genuine folk music "star" the charismatic performer with a crystalline clear voice and a songbag full of folk classics, many of them her own creations, will appear at the Chicory House in Wilkes-Barre, Friday, March 27.

The nonprofit, volunteer-operated Chicory House, Northeastern Pennsylvania's only venue dedicated to presenting folk music, holds its coffeehouse concerts in the Community Room of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, South Franklin Street across from Boscov's in downtown Wilkes-Barre. Sally Rogers' concert begins at 8 p.m., one half-hour earlier than usual. Doors open at 7:30.

Familiar to many from her appearances on public radio's "A Prairie Home Companion" and "Mountain Stage," Sally Rogers is equally at home headlining a festival as she is in an elementary school, entertaining and teaching children about the environment and peace.

Sally accompanies herself on guitar and Appalachian dulcimer, or performs without accompaniment in a voice that needs no further enhancement.

Rogers has released nine albums, most of them on the Flying Fish label. Her second album, "In the Circle of the Sun," won a Best Folk Album of the Year award from the National Association of Independent Record Distributors (NAIRD).

Sally has also made a duo recording, "When Howie Met Sally," with husband Howie Bursen. In 1988 Sally reached a new audience with her first children's recording, "Peace by Peace." One of the first albums to introduce children to the concept of peace on a day-to-day basis, it received wide critical and popular acclaim. Her second children's album, "Piggyback Planet: Songs for a Whole Earth" (on Round River Records), has an environmental theme and received the Parents' Choice Gold Award. Sally Rogers' records will be available at her Chicory House concert.

Admission to the concert will be $6 at the door. Seating is on a first-come, first-served basis, there are no advance sales or reservations. Desserts and beverages will be available for purchase. For more information about this and other Chicory House presentations, call 675-8843.
