Three Lehman students will play in all-state band

By GRACE R. DOVE Post Staff

After intense competition for district and regional band, three Lake-Lehman High School band members were selected to play in the All-State Band April 25 in Philadelphia.

J.C. Link on trumpet, Johanna Miller on alto clarinet and Rob Trescavage on alto sax will go to Philadelphia April 23.

"For the audition, we had to play music selected by the auditions committee," Link explained.

"The hard part—the auditions—is over. Now we just have rehearsals and the concert," Trescavage said.

Band director Ed Roberts said that he is proud of his students. "It's a great opportunity for them to play with a band of that caliber," he said. "I also must give credit to their private teachers for giving them a good musical background."

Link studies with John Milauskas, while Miller studies with Len Sable and Trescavage is a student of Mike Prior.

Police breakfast to benefit retarded citizens

The Back Mountain Police Association will hold their annual Ham and Egg Breakfast to benefit the Association for Retarded Citizens April 26. The all-you-can-eat breakfast will run from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Dallas High School cafeteria. Tickets are $5 for adults and $2.50 for children and are available from any Back Mountain police officer.

Benzene has been found to cause cancer in large doses, while MTBE is not as hazardous.

Filters provided to homeowners with affected wells by the Sunoco Station owner will remove the benzene and MTBE, said Carmon.

Maculloch is also paying for bottled water at the mobile home park and the Junior High School. Several new wells were drilled at the mobile home park, but either failed to yield enough water, or were still contaminated by the gasoline. A new well was drilled successfully for a homeowner on away from the road.

Pipeline

Township solicitor Blythe Evans said that before a utility interferes with a right of way, it must have a hearing before the Public Utility Commission to prove there is no other way to do the job.

Evans suggested the township send the contractor a strongly-worded letter asking them to correct the problem, either by moving the pipeline, or by straightening the roadway.

While working on the pipeline, the contractor also closed down Mizdail Road for several days without the township's permission, according to police chief Don Jones.

Despite early assurances that the pipeline would include a fire hydrant at the intersection of Route 29 and Zbick Road, the supervisors have now learned that the fire hydrant is no longer planned.

Stager also asked Attorney Evans to investigate the possibility of enacting a junked car ordinance.

Stager said that the township has had many complaints from people in the township's developments complaining about junked cars.

Last of the contaminated soil will be removed

The supervisors voted at a special meeting held before the work session to give their contractor the go ahead to remove the final 400 tons of soil contaminated by gasoline from where it's piled behind the new municipal building.

The township discovered the contaminated soil at the municipal building on Huntsville Road while the gasoline tanks at the former gas station where being removed in February. Instead of the three tanks that were expected to be under the ground, workers found six tanks which had leaked gasoline over the years.

The township is borrowing $230,000 to pay for the cleanup from Luzerne National Bank.

The cleanup work includes shipping the contaminated soil to Texas and drilling four monitoring wells to ensure that the contamination does not spread to the ground water.

The supervisors are investigating whether funding to offset the cost is available from the state of the Luzerne County Office of Human Development.

Kingston Twp.

CHARGED WITH DRUNK DRIVING

Charles J. Young, 53, of Demunds Road, Dallas, was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol March 21, police said.

Police said Young was arrested at about 2:20 a.m. after he was stopped on Route 309 in Shavertown.

Arresting officer was Ptl. Robert Weiss.

CHARGED WITH SIMPLE ASSAULT

Brian McCarthy, 23, of 197 Meadowcrest, Trucksville, was charged with simple assault after a domestic dispute on March 29, police said.

Police said that after he was arrested and released on bail, he returned to the scene of the dispute at the home of Janet Desormo. Police said that they then picked McCarthy up again, and took him to District Justice Andrew Barilla of Swoyersville, who sent him to the Luzerne County Correctional Facility in lieu of $25,000 bail.

Investigating officer was Sgt. James J. Balavage.

CHARGED WITH POSSESSION OF DRUGS

Two Kingston men were charged with possession of marijuana March 26, police said.

Charged were Thomas Austin of 97 West Dorrance Street, and Jay Schwartz of 332 North Sprague Avenue, Kingston.

Police said that the two were observed smoking what was believed to be a marijuana joint on Route 309 in Shavertown. They were stopped and a joint was found along with a small amount of marijuana.

Austin was also charged with driving under the influence of a controlled substance, police said.

Investigating officers were Ptl. Robert Weiss and Ptl. Charles Rauschkolb.

PURSE STOLEN

A purse belonging to Michelle Glomb of Bunker Hill was reported stolen from the home of Robert Booth of Elizabeth Street, police said.

The purse contained about $150. Also taken were three Nintendo video game cartridges.

Investigating officer was Sgt. James Balavage.
