It kind of makes you wonder why they'd ever build a road straight.

We can't, in good conscience, suggest the new SC chews up and spits out corners exactly the same way a Porsche does. But then, it's $12,275 sticker won't chew up and spit out the contents in your wallet the same way a Porsche does, either. With variable-effort power steering, a long wheelbase, sport-tuned suspension, MacPherson struts and front/rear stabilizing bars, let's just say that you won't be entering or exiting any corners like some fuddy duddy.
