Schools will open before Labor Day

The Board of School directors for the Dallas School District at its regular May meeting adopted the 1992-93 school calendar. This school calendar has school beginning prior to the Labor Day Holiday. It is comprised of 180 school days for students and 185 days for teachers. An added feature of the 1992-93 school calendar is the parent conference days for secondary students. Parent conferences for the elementary students were established in 1974 and have been extremely successful. This is the first year that parent conferences for the secondary students are specifically identified on the school district's calendar. The district is optimistic that the secondary conferences will be as successful in providing communication between parents and teachers at the secondary level as we are at the elementary level.

The first day of school for students will be September 2, 1992. Elementary parent conferences are scheduled for November 16, 1992 and April 19, 1993. Secondary parent conferences are scheduled for November 23, 1992 and April 21, 1993.

New Hot Line provides meeting, activity reports

The Dallas School district has initiated an Information Hot Line. The purpose of this hot line is to provide the community with immediate access to information about upcoming meetings of the Board of Education and school activities.

Interested community members may get information about Board meetings, school activities, or other important meetings by calling 674-3230.
