Lake-Lehman taxpayers offer cost-saving steps

By GRACE R. DOVE Post Staff

Mrs. Pat Gold, spokesperson for saving $115,000. the Lake-Lehman Taxpayers Association, presented the school board with a list of cost-saving suggestions at its regular meeting Thursday, June 18. The Taxpayers' Association says that these measures will cut 10-12 mills from the district's original budget without the need to levy the controversial 10% amusement tax.

The suggested measures, with projected savings, include:

• Reduce the current $150 per activities to $100 per student,

• Eliminate all unnecessary staff trips, seminars, conferences, etc., saving $10,000-$20,000.

• Reduce the operating fund balance by 15%, saving $30,000.

· Eliminate the positions of truant officer (duties to be assumed by the high school vice principal) and curriculum coordinator (duties to be divided among the superintendent and the building principals), saving $45,000.

• Freeze all administrative salastudent cost of all co-curricular ries for one year as contracts become due, saving $10,000.

> • Require teachers living outside the district whose children attend school at Lake-Lehman and were enrolled before 1990-91 to pay tuition for their schooling, generating $70,000 in income for • Impose a 1% non-resident tax on all employees living outside the district, generating approximately $40,000 in income. According to Mrs. Gold, this tax would affect 60% of the teachers and 80% of the administrators.

Using these figures, Mrs. Gold estimates that the district would save between 10 and 12 mills, or $330,000.

The taxpayers' association also urged the board to:

 Freeze all professional staff hirings and use actual student enrollments, not projected figures, to determine future staff needs.

 Reduce the teaching staff through attrition by not replacing teachers who retire or resign.

• Institute no new programs for 1992-93, including the pre-first

• Mrs. Pat Gold, spokesman for the Lake-Lehman Taxpayers' Association: "I am very pleased that tiered busing will not be a reality. And I am concerned that implementing the amusement tax will hurt business. If we can't manage what we have already, it is ridiculous for us to try to take on anything new.

Michelle Boice: "The amphiteater has the same potential to bring quality shows to the Back Mountain that the Kirby Center has downtown. I don't think it's fair to tax it.'

· Damien Kaye, co-owner of Damien's Restaurant: "Although the very visible homes on Lakeside Drive are very expensive, up in the hills live veterans, single mothers and older people who depend on Harveys Lake businesses for their liveliehood. ## Savage wishes Greco well

Lake-Lehman School District solicitor Peter Savage and music promoter Thom Greco publicly buried the hatchet at the school board's regular meeting Thursday, June 11.

"Erroneous statements about me have been made in the media and I would like to correct them," Savage said.

"I've spent my life at Harveys Lake and fondly remember all the activity during the summer. I welcome Mr. Greco's enterprise. I am pleased with all the careful arrangements that he has made and the reasonable manner in the timing of the concerts.

Savage, who lives a mile away from Hanson's, detailed his complaints which he said have now been resolved, against last summer's loud music which he said went on sometimes until 1 or 2 a.m. After contacting Mrs. Shirley Hanson and the Harveys Lake Borough Council, Savage contacted the Liquor Control Board, since the noise from the dance hall was associated with alcohol sales at the dance hall.

"My problem with Hanson's is not what is happening now," Savage said. "I hope that all of Mr. Greco's concerts are as successful as the first one was. I would like to publicly thank Mr. Greco for his good concerts."

Kingston Twp. building plan gets first approval

The Kingston Township supervisors granted preliminary plan approval to the Hillbrook Farms subdivision at their meeting June

The approval for the subdivision, located along Schooley Hill Road and Ondish Road, was granted, provided the subdivision meets township storm water runoff regulations and is approved by the Department of Environmental Thirty-one lots are planned for individual wells.

the subdivision, with an average lot size of 4 1/2 acres on a total of 133 acres of land zoned agricultural. No new roads are called for in the subdivision, but Ondish Road, now unpaved, would be paved.

The property, formerly the Schooley Farm, is owned by the Hillbrook Farms Corporation, formed by Dr. William Burak of Hollow Road, Kingston Township, and Leonard Romanowski, of Hilltop Drive, Kingston Township.

The homes would be connected to the sewers, but would have

Taking the Mystery Out of Drycleaning You take your soiled clothes to your drycleaner and later pick them up looking like new. But do you know what happens in between? To many of us, drycleaning is a mystery. The word drycleaning is a misnomer. Drycleaning is the use of fluids to remove soil and stains from fabric that water cannot do alone. It is called "drycleaning" because the fluid contains little or no water and does not penetrate the fibers as water does. To keep your clothes looking their best, beware of some of these myths about drycleaning.

· Myth: Frequent cleaning can wear out clothes. In fact, the opposite is true. Not only do stains set with age making the garment unwearable, but ground in dirt and soil act as an abrasive, like sandpaper, causing rapid wear of fibers.

· Myth: Hair spay can remove ink stains. Sometimes yes and sometimes no. The alcohol in hair spray can help remove some ink stains, but beware, it can often remove dyes leaving an even more · Myth: Club soda is the universal stain remover.

Not true. Club soda can cause problems for silks and rayons that are sensitive to

IRREGULAR CORNEA

The normal comea is perfectly curved and helps the eye to focus perfectly. A somewhat rare kind of deformity distorts this curvature, so that the surface of the cornea, instead of being round, becomes cone-shaped and irregular. This is called conical cornea, or keratoconus.

Before the days of contact lenses, people with keratoconus suffered from poor vision which became gradually and increasingly so distorted that even with glasses they could perform only the crudest tasks. Worse still, this ailment often struck young adults who found their jobs or their careers interrupted at a critical time in Today, people with this problem are more fortunate. Miraculously, use of a contact lens can restore good vision to those suffering from this condition. The irregular surface of the eye can be "paved over" with a perfectly curved contact lens. This allows the image passing into the eye to remain sharp and clear.
