Nesbitt Hospital Festival in June 24

The Rural Branch of Nesbitt Memorial Hospital's Auxiliary has been busy making various hand-crafts to be sold at the annual June Festival slated for Wednesday, June 24 from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. on the grounds of the Medical Arts Building, 534 Wyoming Avenue, Kingston. Members of the Rural Branch work all year preparing handmade quilts of varying sizes, throw pillows, crocheted dolls, homemade canned jellies and mini soaps for this group's biggest fundraising effort. Proceeds from this event will enhance patient care at Nesbitt Memorial Hospital. For more information about the June Festival, call Nesbitt Memorial Hospital's Community Relations Department at 288-1411, extension 4025. Rural Branch members pictured, seated from left are, Genevieve Besteder, Tunkhannock; Louise Hess, Dallas; Louise James, Dallas; Sarah Brehm, Trucksville; Helen Dorrance, Dallas; Mary Kloeber, Pittston; and Gertrude Coolbaugh, Pittston. Standing from left are, Kay Palmer, Trucksville; Betty Reese, Trucksville; Ruth Wilson, Wyoming; Geraldine Roe, Dallas; Amelia Brody, Dallas; Marianne Phillips, Dallas; Edith Shupp, branch president, Dallas and Doris Bedford, Orange.

Thoms attend Friends meet in Philly

Mary and Bill Thom of Dallas represented North Branch Friends at the recent 312th annual session of Philadelphia Yearly Meeting, Religious Society of Friends (Quakers).

Over 700 members and attendees from eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware participated in sessions on peace and justice issues, long range planning, and on "Hearing where the Words Come From: Finding Spiritual Unity within Our Diversity." Young Friends attended special programs including a visit to a shelter for homeless people.

Herbert Quick is clerk of the local Friends Meeting. The group meet on Sunday mornings at 10 a.m. for study and 11 a.m. for worship at the Wyoming Seminary Lower School, Wyoming Avenue in Forty Fort. Visitors of all ages are welcome. For more information, call 675-2438.

Women's Network names Pathfinder award winners

The highest award of the Luzerne County Women's Network is the Pathfinder—an award to those women who have "challenged the traditional assumptions of women's roles in society." The Pathfinder is a role model for other women by demonstrating outstanding qualities of dignity, initiative and endurance. The 1992 Pathfinder Awards, made at the Annual Luzerne County Women's Conference held at Penn State Wilkes-Barre this month, went to four outstanding women and an organization.

Shown from left, Peg Jones, chair of the County Women's Commission which won the award for WILPOWR leadership project; Judge Ann H. Lokuta, first woman to be elected Judge of Common Pleas in this county; Terry McGurdy, who received the award for her "on-the-front-lines" leadership in women's issues and as coordinator of the N.O.W. chapter for 15 years; Eleanor Miller for her work for positive change in peace and justice issues, civil rights and women's issues; Dr. Jan Kelly, who headed the WILPOWR project for the Women's Commission; and Mary Anne Gale, site director of the Procter & Gamble plant in Mehoopany, who has encouraged policies and practices in her company to foster appreciation of cultural diversity.

Brownies have a tea for mothers and grandmothers

A Grandmother, Mother, Daughter Tea was held by Lehman Brownie Troop 658. Cookbooks were given to the grandmothers and mothers in memory of this special occasion.

Following the tea, an Awards and Bridging Ceremony was held and the girls received their try it badges, brownie wings and membership pins.

For entertainment the girls had a talent show.

Environmental programs for youth at Frances Slocum

The long awaited Youth Environmental Learning Series will be conducted throughout July at Frances Slocum Park in Carverton.

These programs run for three days in which a multitude of environmental topics will be discussed.

Summer lectures on therapy at Misericordia

The Occupational Therapy Department of College Misericordia will host a special "Summer OT Lecture Series" on five Saturdays in June and July, according to Gail Fidler, FAOTA, Misericordia's scholar-in-residence.

The series is scheduled for June 20 and 27; and July 11, 18 and 25 in Merrick Hall.

The intent of the series, according to Fidler, is to offer local and regional occupational therapists and other health care professionals the opportunity to hear and meet some of the top leaders in occupational therapy.

Each session is scheduled for 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and will conclude with a reception. Participants can meet and talk with other OT's, faculty from the College and with the guest lecturers.

For more information, please contact the occupational therapy department at College Misericordia at 674-6481.
