Kimono display begins July 11 at Misericordia

The MacDonald Art Gallery at College Misericordia will host an exhibit titled "Japanese Kimonos: Traditional Motifs," Sunday, July 12 - Wednesday, August 12.

A Gala Opening reception will be held Saturday, July 11 in the Gallery from 7 to 9 p.m.

The exhibit includes a representative selection of kimonos and obis, from the lavishly embroidered wedding kimono to the Homongi, a formal kimono worn by single or married women when visiting.

Although the kimono presently is unique to Japan, variants of the garment once were prevalent in China and Korea as well. Through succeeding eras of wealthy, extravagant courts and strict military rule, the kimono alternated between being gaudy and flamboyant to being delicately patterned and colored as it generally is today.

The exhibition is free and open to the public. Gallery hours are Tuesday-Thursday, 12-5 p.m., 6-8 p.m.; Friday, 12-5 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday, 1-5 p.m. Closed Monday. For more information, contact the MacDonald Art Gallery at 674-6250.

Shakespeare discussion at Misericordia

A trio of local Shakespearean scholars will present a special symposium related to "Much Ado About Nothing," this year's Theatre-On-The-Green Fifth Season production. The symposium will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday, July 14 in Kennedy Lounge, Merrick Hall, College Misericordia. The play, one of Shakespeare's romantic comedies, transcends time to capture the passionate relationship between men and women and the marriages they engage in, one of themes of the symposium.

Dr. Regina Kelly, RSM, professor emeritus, Misericordia English dept.; Dr. Scott Blanchard, professor of English at Misericordia; and Dr. Millie Lawson, professor of English at King's College, will conduct this special program. "We will explore the major themes of this Shakespeare comedy in a lively discussion which will involve audience participation," said Dr. Kelly.

The line in Act One, Scene One of the play: "There is a kind of merry war betwixt (them)," refers to the relationship between the main characters of the play, Benedick and Beatrice. The capricious nature of these characters sets the tone for the endless match of wits in "Much Ado."

Attending the free symposium will offer participants the opportunity to learn more about the play prior to the performances of "Much Ado," which begin at 8 p.m. July 17, 18 and 19.

For tickets to the performances, contact Theatre Box Office at (717) 674-6719.
