National cruises to 27-0 win

Jeremy Carsman fires no-hitter, team bangs out 24 hits

By DAVE KONOPKI

It's been a tough year for those trying to get their point across.

George Bush has been sending messages, but they keep changing. Bill Clinton has been sending messages, but nobody's listening. And Ross Perot, well, he's going to analyze things and get back to us real soon.

But on Monday night the Back Mountain National League All-Star team sent a message - a clear, resounding, definitive message. The results provided a landslide victory.

Jeremy Carsman twirled a no-hitter and the National bats erupted for 24 hits as they pounded Ashley-Newton, 27-0, in the opening round of District 16 playoff action.

"We knew that winning the first game is very important," said manager Bob Bayer. "The first game can help set the tone for the rest of the playoffs. We came out and really hit the bat well. I was really surprised."

Bayer wasn't at a loss for words when it came to his pitcher's performance.

"Jeremy worked real hard out there," said Bayer of Carsman, who struck out nine batters. "He kept his head in the game and was rewarded with a no-hitter. I was very impressed with the defense we played behind him. There were a lot of outstanding plays."

There were a lot of outstanding plays for the Nationals in the first inning. But these were on the offensive side. They scored early, and often.

The Nationals scored 10 times in the opening frame with Dan Tomedi highlighting the inning with a towering two-run home run to left field. The Nationals sent 14 batters to the plate in the first and leadoff hitter Josh Dukas had two hits in the inning, including a lead-off triple.

After taking an 11-0 lead, the Nationals scored six more times in the third inning, getting consecutive hits by Josh Butler, Randy Moyer, Mike Sabol and Carsman to start the inning. The Nationals sent 13 batters to the plate in the fourth, scoring seven more runs and increasing the margin to 24-0.

Meanwhile, Carsman was in cruise control, facing only two batters over the minimum through five innings and striking out six of the first three. When Carsman allowed a baserunner, his defense picked him up, led by the stellar play of catcher Josh Butler.

Carsman almost saw his bid for a no-hitter ended in the fifth when Ashley-Newton's Bill Koonra lined a ball over the head of second baseman Chris Habrack. But the ball was picked up by centerfielder Josh Dukas, who threw a perfect strike to first for the force out.

Dukas led all National hitters with five hits, including hits in four consecutive at-bats. Butler added four hits, including a double as did Mike Sabol. Carsman helped his own cause with four hits and scored five runs. Habrack added two hits in just two plate appearances.

American comeback against Plains falls short

In the nightcap, the Back Mountain American All Star team dropped a heartbreaking 4-3 decision to Plains.

After a scoreless first two innings, Plains took a 3-0 lead in the third on a two-run double by Chucky Anstett. But the American League showed a lot of character and tied the game with three runs in the fourth.

Jeff Faneck started the inning off with a double and advanced to third on a single by Ed Piekara. The Americans executed a perfect double steal with Faneck scoring and Piekara going to second and later advancing to third on a passed ball. Piekara scored on a fielder's choice by Keith Zinn and Chuck Fehlinger pounded out a one-out double to score Zinn and tie the game at 3-3.

But it was Anstett who proved to be a thorn in the side of the Americans. After Piekara struck out the first two batters to begin the fifth, Anstett drilled a 1-1 pitch over the right-centerfield wall for the game-winning run.

Piekara pitched an outstanding game despite the loss, allowing just five hits, including three to Anstett. Piekara struck out eight and walked just two.

Despite the loss, manager Tom Evans' team is optimistic heading into the second round of the double-elimination tourney.

"We lost to a very good, well-coached team," said Evans. "But think we showed a lot of heart in coming back. I'm really proud of these kids. I think that our kids are (positive). They realize that they played a good game and lost to a very good team by just one run. I think that they now realize that they can play with any team in the tournament."

Screenprinting takes 5th place at tourney

The Screenprinting USA Softball Team of Dallas finished in fifth place at the Fourth of July Tournament in Millflinburg, PA.

The Printers dropped their opening game, 10-6, to Snyder's Construction, a Class B team from Northumberland.

The team stayed alive with a thrilling 11-9 win over Golden Corral of Selinsgrove. The Printers trailed 9-8 with two outs and nobody on in the bottom of the seventh when Dwight Barbacci singled and Scott Miner walked.

John "Yonk" Wincek singled in Barbacci to knot the score and Tom Yoniski followed with game-winning three-run homer.

After two consecutive 10-run victories, the Printers lost a heart-break, 9-7 to the Oilers of Lewis-town who scored five runs in the top of the seventh.

Wincek led the offense at .750 and a team-high three homers followed by Rick Crispell, .692, and Barbacci, .625. Also over the .500 mark were Steve Taylor, .579; Scott Crispell, .533; Mike Grubb, .500 and Dave Parsnik, .500.

Other team members were Bill Vivian, Ron Swingle and Kevin Ball. Screenprinting fell to 5-2 in the Back Mountain Slow-Pitch Softball League, losing a slugfest to Plains Pub, 24-14, last Tuesday.

Donnie Spender led the Screenprinting attack with four hits while Dwight Barbacci, Scott Crispell and Jim Chamberlain had three hits each. Chuck Edkins and Tom Yoniski added two hits apiece with Yoniski belting a homer. Barbacci, Chamberlain and Walt Konopke also ripped homers for the Printers.

Back Mountain residents Bill Boyle and Kevin Gilpin paced the Pub offense with four hits each.
